Dawes Launches G. O. P. Campaign Against La Follette

M'COY ARRAIGNED; DENIES GUILT!

'BRASS TACK' SPEAKING TOUR OF COUNTRY BEGINS

Coolidge In Vermont Hears Running Mate's First Speech Over Radio

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—Bearing a standard which promised no evasion, temporizing or sidestepping of issues, General Charles G. Dawes, Republican vice-presidential candidate, today started eastward on his campaign of "brass tacks," following his official notification at his home in Evanston last night.

Speaking before a crowd of between 75,000 and 125,000, the general frankly assumed the role of Republican burden-bearer for the campaign, answered La Follette's progressive challenge, the Democratic League of Nations issue and defended his party's world court proposals.

Coolidge Hears Speech

Telegraphic offices in Chicago and Evanston were swamped with congratulatory messages after the ceremony and today. The first one the general received was from President Coolidge, which read:

"Congratulations after having heard your speech by radio, which was very clear here."

That the Republican vice-presidential candidate will be able to hammer his points home though the "Hell 'n Maria" content of his speeches is moulded to the conventional Republican tenets and garbed in conventional words, was demonstrated last night.

Sees Third Party Danger

General Dawes will carry eastward his message that the Democratic party is no longer the chief opponent of the Republicans. It is La Follette's party, he said, with its danger of having the election thrown into the Senate.

General Dawes today was on his way to Augusta, Maine, where his opening campaign speech will be delivered Saturday.

After the eastern trip he will return to Chicago and thence to Lincoln, Neb., where August 29 he will discuss the economics of the agricultural question.

URGE CHLOROFORM FOR RAVING MAN

Hydrophobia Victim Slowly Dying; Physician Would Make End Easier

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 20.—Raving and foaming at the mouth, General W. Irons, 63, suffering from hydrophobia, is locked in an isolated room of the city jail today, awaiting death.

Dr. L. L. Aultz, county physician, in consultation with Mayor Wertz, advocated chloroforming him that his passing might be peaceful, but the proposal was rejected by the mayor.

The aged man was bleeding from numerous cuts and scratches suffered while roaming at large in a naked condition early this morning, after he had been strapped in bed last night, following a break for liberty. When doctors entered the room it required eight attendants to replace him in bed. Five leather straps were obtained and he was fastened to the bed.

About 5 o'clock this morning his room was discovered empty. The police department was called out and he was finally located in an exclusive residential section. He offered little resistance when taken to a cell at the city prison, but later was seized with maniacal ravings. The county physicians advised removal to an isolated room to avoid infection of other prisoners.

Seattle Balks at Paying Increased Telephone Charge

SEATTLE, Aug. 20.—Seattle's city council will refuse to pay the new telephone rates and order removal of the Pacific Telegraph and Telephone company's equipment from the public streets should the company refuse to accept tender of payment under old rates in effect prior to August 15.

The franchise committee yesterday recommended to the council that payment under the old rates be tendered.

In the meantime the city law department is drafting an ordinance directing the telephone company to forthwith remove its poles, wires and other equipment from the public streets.

GLENDALE USING TOO MUCH POWER

Houseowners Use Too Many Lights, Appliances, Says Peter Diederich

The heaviest consumption of light and power since the 25 per cent curtailment went into effect June 15 was registered yesterday, according to Peter Diederich, superintendent of plant and production, when 32,800 kilowatts were used within the Glendale city limits. This is 5800 kilowatts over the quota of 27,000 kilowatts allowed under the Southern California Edison company ruling, through H. G. Butler, power supervisor, and means that the city must immediately get down off this high level.

Yesterday the representative from the Edison company took the readings and was satisfied with the consumption for the first two days of the week. When he next takes the readings, and sees that Glendale used 32,800 kilowatts of electricity in one day, declares Mr. Diederich, he will be likely to "call down" the department.

Asked what type of consumers are in the main responsible for Glendale's big jump over the quota Mr. Diederich stated that in his opinion it is the average domestic user, the tenant or house owner who burns too many lights and uses too many electrical devices. He believes that many people have grown lax in their efforts to conserve, believing the danger is past, when, as a matter of fact, the situation now is no better than when the condition at Huntington lake was first made public.

Study of Scientific Suicide May Be Fatal

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 20.—His study of "scientific suicide" and the philosophy of self-destruction was blamed by police tdoay for the alleged attempt of Walter D. Baker, 27, to end his life. Baker is dying in a hospital here, after shooting himself with a rifle on a mountain trail.

"The Color of Life," a book on suicide, was found beside the wounded man. Baker, who is the son of a telephone company official, told authorities he shot himself "as a scientific experiment."

NEAR END OF ARGUMENTS IN TRIAL

State Compares Leopold and Loeb With Street Waif Awaiting Hanging

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
For International News Service.

CRIMINAL COURT, CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—The deadly parallel between Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard A. Loeb, scions of wealth and education, and Bernard Grant, a poor street waif, was drawn in Judge John R. Caverly's court room today by the attorneys for the state in the final argument that Leopold and Loeb be sent to the gallows for the kidnaping and the murder of Bobby Franks.

The parallel was drawn by Assistant State's Attorney Thomas Marshall, in an ironical attack on the defense theory that the youth of the Franks slayers should be considered in mitigation of their punishment.

"Right now," said Marshall, "there is in the Cook county jail one Bernard Grant, 19 years old, awaiting execution for the murder of a policeman." Loeb and Leopold are each 19.

History of Case

Marshall recited the history of the Grant case—a poor boy, caught robbing a store by the policeman; there was a struggle and the policeman fell, mortally wounded. He was tried and convicted of first degree murder, and the Supreme court itself fixed the date of execution next October.

"Here," said Marshall, "was no premeditation of murder. It was spontaneous. There was no planning. Is Bernard Grant, 19 years old, who had no advantages, to go to the gallows under the law, and these two defendants here, who had every advantage in life, who plotted for months the deliberate slaying of a little boy, be allowed to escape the supreme penalty? Grant may have something the matter with his mind, too, but the courts considered him sane."

There have been many hints in this case that, if all other measures fail to save "Dicky" and "Babe" from the gallows, a last resort will be made to executive clemency—a commutation of a death penalty to life imprisonment.

FLYERS DELAYED AWAITING PARTS

Repairs Fail to Reach Army Aviators In Time to Hop Off Today

ON BOARD U. S. CRUISER RICHMOND, OFF REYKJAVIK, Aug. 20.—The Richmond arrived too late to allow Lieutenant Lowell Smith and Lieutenant Erik Nelson to repair their damaged airplanes and get away today, so the next jump of the 'round-the-world flight was postponed until tomorrow.

If the army 'round-the-world fliers want to continue their epoch-making journey with navy protection in the icy northern seas, they'll have to get started within the next four days. Admiral Magruder, in charge of the navy ships assisting the fliers, announced today that the vessel's fuel was being exhausted.

"Unless the fliers are able to take off by August 24," said Admiral Magruder, "it is probable they will have to fly without protection convoy, because of the need of fuel."

In order to facilitate the aviators' departure, Magruder plans to halt the Richmond and send naval planes 90 miles to Reykjevik with repair parts for the army machines which were damaged when they attempted to hop off because of the added weight from the added supply of fuel each carried. By despatching the parts by air, Magruder said, fuel will be saved for the ship.

An investigation was being made today to fix responsibility for a blunder that will cost the navy department $50,000. It is charged that a lieutenant's error caused the Richmond to travel 700 miles to take up its station with the repair parts needed by the machines, leaving the soldiers stranded at Reykjavik.

The futile journey cost $20,000 for oil for the Richmond, with proportionate amounts for the other ships involved in the "wild goose chase."

Musician Favors Jazz

'NERVE TONIC', AVERS LEADER

Takes Issue on Wiggles

By ROLAND KREBS
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Dancing masters who expected to wiggle out of being blamed for the scrimmage effect of modern steps by blaming it on the way dance orchestras play, got their comeback today. It came from Ben Bernie, leader of an exclusive New York hotel orchestra, who has played in cities from coast to coast.

He took exception to statements of Edward S. Hurst of Atlanta, Ga., now attending the convention in Chicago of the National Association of Masters of Dancing, who said jazz music was so harmful to the nerves that sedate dancers could not control themselves or their jerking, jumping muscles. Bernie indignantly declared that jazz did the opposite. He said the tonic qualities came little short of making the blind see and the lame walk.

"Jazz music," declared Bernie, "is a tonic for young people, it unravels tangled nerves, frayed by the worrisome existence most of us lead. It tears down inhibitions to a certain extent and makes people act more natural.

"It gives them something of an outlet for the over-civilized state. We all at one time or another take on the New England conscience or demeanor. Jazz music loosens up the tension and makes us a bit gayer, happier, more free, if only for a brief space of time.

"Take away jazz music from the young people and they will supplant it with something less wholesome and buoyant. We need jazz, but we ought to take it in moderation."

OWNER RECOVERS WEALTHY WALLET

Glendale Real Estate Men Restore Handbag to Hollywood Woman

Dr. Jane Walker, flesh reducing expert of Hollywood, has two Glendale real estate men to thank for retrieving a purse valued at $1000 from the streets of Hollywood last evening.

The handbag had dropped from her car at the corner of Gower and Sunset boulevards and was espied by Fred S. Madden and Frank R. Allen, real estate dealers with offices at 115 West Broadway, Glendale, who were motoring along Sunset boulevard.

Just as they stopped to pick up the purse a street urchin made a grab for it. He lost and the realty men hastened this morning to return it to the rightful owner.

Scientists to Probe Temperature of Mars

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., Aug. 20.—Scientists at Lowell observatory here today said they believed clouds which have obscured the planet Mars in its closest swing earthward in the history of modern astronomy would lift before Saturday, when the planet will be nearest the earth.

Most of the observations here, the most extensive in the entire country, will be devoted to an attempt to determine Mars' temperature, to settle the question of its habitability. Lowell scientists declared today they hoped to be able to learn definitely that Mars' temperature was considerably above zero.

DUNLAP'S DEFENSE IS BUILT ON ALIBIS

State May Close Testimony Against Badge Bandit This Afternoon

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 20.—The state is expected to rest its case late this afternoon in the trial of Harry J. Dunlap, alleged "badge bandit" on trial in Superior Judge Crail's court on nine counts of robbery and assault. Various victims were giving testimony in the trial today.

The defense will base its case on a series of alleged alibis, in an attempt to prove that Dunlap was not near the scene of the crimes at the time they were committed. He is alleged to have held up "petting parties" on the outskirts of Los Angeles, robbing the man in each instance and attempting to attack the girl.

Yesterday afternoon he was identified by Ray Durke, Lankershim contractor, and by several others who testified they had been robbed or attacked by the defendant.

District Attorney Keyes is personally conducting the prosecution.

Seattle Shipbuilder Missing on Sea Trip

SEATTLE, Aug. 20.—Charles Seaborn, 40, prominent shipbuilder of Seattle, is thought to have been drowned in Puget Sound early this morning while on a yachting party on the yacht Tenyo as the guest of K. H. Schoel, naval architect.

Seaborn was a member of the yachting party when the group left the Coleman docks late Tuesday night and when they arrived at the government locks, Seaborn was missing. None of the party could explain his disappearance.

BANKERS' AID FOR LOAN SOUGHT

Administration Waits Morgan Action Before Appeal To Financiers

By H. K. REYNOLDS
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—As another move toward insuring the complete success of the Dawes' reparations plan, the administration stands ready to make a formal appeal to American bankers to contribute to the $200,000,000 German loan, it was learned here today.

Pending a decision, however, on the course to be taken by J. P. Morgan and Company of New York on the loan, the state department does not plan to issue such an appeal.

On the basis of reports from Ambassador Kellogg and Colonel James A. Logan, American representatives at the London conference which approved the Dawes' plan, state department officials are of the opinion that the ample guarantees desired by American financiers have been effected by the London agreement.

Coolidge Attitude

President Coolidge is already on record as urging private loans by Americans to finance the new European undertaking on the ground that through the stabilization of Europe a decided improvement would result in economic conditions in this country.

Action on these financial problems in connection with the Dawes' plan is expected to be deferred until the return to Washington of Secretary of the Treasurer Mellon, about September 1. His advice will be sought by President Coolidge and Secretary of State Hughes and then a plan of action determined upon.

Ruhr Occupation May Block Loan to Germany

LONDON, Aug. 20.—J. P. Morgan, the world's most powerful international banking firm, may refuse to participate in the flotation of the proposed $200,000,000 German loan because of continued French occupation of the Ruhr, it was learned from an authoritative source this afternoon.

Thomas W. Lamont, who acted for the House of Morgan in the international bankers' negotiations here, consistently opposed French occupation of the Ruhr. Lamont and other bankers feared that the presence of French and Belgian troops in the Ruhr would interfere with the free working of the Dawes' plan and cause increased resentment on the part of the Germany people.

Young Offered Post

"With a settlement reached at London, it is a pity there are not enough bankers to float a loan,"

ASKS FREEDOM AS HUSBAND TRAVELS

Glendale Woman Tells Tales Of Journeys In Suit For Divorce

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 20.—Margaret H. Lee and Robert H. Lee were married in Glendale on July 23, 1923. A few days later, while on their honeymoon in Santa Barbara, her husband was forced to flee on a moment's notice when he learned that officers had arrived in Santa Barbara to arrest him for a fraudulent oil promotion scheme, she alleges in a suit for divorce filed here today.

Lee left for Mexico City, she claims, and she returned to Glendale. While there she received a letter asking her to join him in Mexico, she states, but before she left, she received another instructing her to proceed to New Orleans. There she rejoined her husband and they went to Havana, Cuba, she asserts.

While there, she claims, she discovered Lee had joined a band of smugglers and bootleggers. She left him and went to New York where he promised to rejoin her, the bill states. He failed to appear, and she returned to Glendale. She last heard of Lee at Miami, Florida, she states.

No Deer Hunting Edict Issued by San Diego County

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 20.—There will be no deer hunting in San Diego county this year. This drab ruling from the county board of supervisors today cast a damper over local sportsmen who had been anticipating the opening of the deer season September 16.

The scarcity of water holes, brought on by the present dry season, which has forced the deer into the more open spaces in quest of water, was advanced as the reason for declaring a closed season.

The supervisors also instructed the district attorney's office to prosecute all persons found shooting deer.

SAVANTS FASTEN EYES ON PLANET

Scientists on Watch as Mars Swings 7,000,000 Miles Closer to Earth

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—All the large radio stations in the world have been requested to remain silent on August 22 and 23, so that scientists in this country may try to pick up possible radio signals from the planet Mars, it was learned here this afternoon. No action to this effect has been taken by the department of commerce, which controls American radio stations, but Honorie Pueyrredon, Argentinian ambassador here, today cabled the request to his government at Buenos Aires.

LICK OBSERVATORY, MOUNT HAMILTON, Aug. 20.—Although giant telescopes of six Pacific observatories have swung into action and a small army of astronomical savants is sleeping by day and scanning the heavens by night, it is improbable that Mars, in its trip to a point 7,000,000 miles nearer the earth this week, will divulge the momentous secret of whether it is inhabited.

Furthermore, if the learned astronomers who, through long study, know more about the war God planet than any other humans, are to be quoted strictly according to their viewpoints, it is probable that mankind will never be able to learn that secret definitely.

Because of the clearer atmospheric conditions prevailing here; more than three score astronomers, some of them famous the world over, and most of whom believe that Mars may be inhabited either by animal or human life, started the most intimate studies they ever have been able to make of that celestial body under modern auspices last Monday night.

Planet Comes Closer

At that time, the mystery planet started moving in what scientists term "opposition" to the earth, and during the trip will narrow down the usual 42,000,000 mile away orbit on which it travels, to a mere 35,000,000 miles. The closest approach to the earth will be reached Wednesday night, according to astronomical schedules. "Close up" studies of Mars, however, will continue for almost ten days thereafter, it being the estimated time which the planet will take to return to its more distant 42,000,000-mile pathway.

Observations being made from the Pacific coast points are through the most powerful telescopes yet invented by man, among them the famous hundred-inch reflecting mirror telescope at Carnegie Solar Observatory, Mount Wilson, southern California.

Other Observers

The principal studies, however, will be made from Lowell Observatory, Arizona, where Dr. Percival Lowell, famous astronomer, recently completed his epochal photographic studies of Mars, and from Lick Observatory, here. Other observations also are being made from the Lick Observatory on Mount Lowe, southern California, the Santa Clara Observatory here, and from the United States Naval Observatory, at Mare Island.

The consensus of opinion among astronomers is that Wednesday night's opportunity to study the red planet at the closest range possible in more than half

SLEW WOMAN FOR JEWELS CLAIM OF KEYES

Detectives Take Mrs. Mors' Gems From Attorneys Representing Sister

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 20.—While Norman Selby, former pugilist and film actor, known as "Kid" McCoy was being arraigned this morning before Judge Charles S. Crail on charges of having murdered Mrs. Teresa Mors, three pieces of rare jewelry, valued at more than $30,000 were found in possession of lawyers representing Mrs. Jennie Thomas, of Eagle Rock, McCoy's sister.

Recovery of the jewelry, District Attorney Asa Keyes asserted, fastened the murder of the woman definitely on McCoy, with robbery as the motive.

Detectives Investigate

Detectives of the district attorney's office asserted the jewelry was given to Mrs. Thomas by McCoy shortly after Mrs. Mors was killed.

In the courtroom McCoy exclaimed "I did not" as the judge read the murder charge and proceeded to enumerate seven other counts charging assault and robbery.

McCoy's lawyers quickly silenced him and he was given until Monday morning to enter his formal plea.

Appears Normal Today

The former pugilist arose early today at his cell in the county jail and engaged in ten minutes' strenuous exercises, "chinning" himself on the bars of his cell and going through a series of setting up exercises.

He appeared normal today and apparently had had no visions of Mrs. Mors during the night as he claimed to have had Tuesday.

HORSESHOE GERM NIPS TUJUNGANS

Slipper Tossers Pre-empt Site, Refuse to Vacate As Carnival Nears

By F. A. GRAHAM
Of The Evening News Staff.

TUJUNGA, Aug. 20.—Nell's Bells! Barney Google is on the warpath and the Shade of Barnum is tossing nervously in his crypt!

The horseshoe-pitching germ has bitten Tujunga and Spark Plug's brogans have been pinched!

Constable Ed McCarty is in the General Hospital with a broken leg, but he has deduced that the culprit must be among the slipper-tossing athletes and somebody is due for an investigation if the docs don't decide to give McCarty the veterinarian treatment for broken legs and shoot him.

Many Hiding Out

Missouri mustangs and political dark horses have taken to the tall uncut to save their soles.

Not only that, but the iron slipper-tossers have pre-empted the park where the fourth annual Moon festival of the Tujungans is to be held and refuse to give up the grounds. American Legion Post 250 has signed a carnival show company and a dozen vaudeville performers to entertain from August 29 to Labor Day, but unless they get the grounds the festival will be a flop.

Art Scribner, post commander, and his committee are working their heads to the bone trying to discover a way to get the horseshoe addicts to vacate the festival grounds. Pete Desjardin, post sergeant-at-arms, has a statistical complex and figures that the horseshoe pitchers walk an average of 6 7-8 miles every day retrieving their tosses.

But will they take a step outside the park? Just try and get 'em to, that's all.

SEPTEMBER WILL SEE LIQUOR WAR

U. S. Coast Guard Service to Launch Campaign on Rum Smugglers

By ROBERT T. SMALL
Special correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The bootleggers of New York City and vicinity consider the "rum fleet" anchored off the twelve-mile limit a convenience but by no means a necessity. Therefore the dire threats of the government in declaring "war without stint" against the rum boats is not creating the stir hereabouts that might have been expected.

The "zero hour" in the rum war is set for "some time in September" and the official communiques probably will be dated "somewhere at sea." The "war" is to be waged by the Coast Guard service and the officers of that subsidiary of the United States navy are guarding their actual plans of battle with all the secrecy that marked some of the preparations for the world war. Even censorship has been resorted to.

The Coast Guard people will find the rum runners an enemy worthy of their steel. Of course, the rum boats cannot stand up and fight the twenty destroyers and the several hundred motor boats that are to be sent against them. That is not the style of the rum runners. Their strong weapon is craft and cunning and the passing of silver pieces in directions which will do the most good.

Millions Invested

The "rummers" are a resourceful lot. Millions of dollars are invested in this illegitimate base. It will not yield easily to suppression.

Along Rum Row the outbreak of the war is awaited with something very much akin to complacency. Perhaps the runners do not know the full extent of the plans being laid for their annihilation. Perhaps so many threats and gestures have been made at them in the past that they are a bit contemptuous of the government forces that they openly flaunt. For despite the threats and moves of the past, there has been no interruption of the flow of smuggled liquor into the cities of the Atlantic coast. The establishment of the twelve-mile limit did not so much as increase the price of imported whiskey by one cent a bottle. "Business as usual" was the slogan of the rum dealers and it has been so ever since.

The bootleggers expect that if the government really is to conduct the new "war" on the stupendous plan outlined from Washington their business may be "slowed up" for six weeks or two months. During this period prices may go up a bit, but before Thanksgiving Day supplies are called for the illicit dealers expect to have a solution of their latest problems.

Blockade Planned

The government's share of the problem is to establish a blockade through which no rum boat may pass. The government therefore must wage, in effect, a defensive war. The newly-conditioned torpedo boat destroyers, some of them veterans of the World War—one had its stern shot away by a German submarine—cannot go out and sink the rum boats without trace so long as they anchor sufficiently far off shore. The defending fleet must wait for an overt act.

Although they will be outnumbered at first by the government craft, the rum runners have many natural allies that will be working for them. The storm season is not so far away. Foggy nights and mornings may be expected almost at any time. On storm and fog the rum boats thrive. The "rummies" figure that the small motor boats to be used in the "war" will not be able to anchor in the rough waters twelve to thirty miles out. They will have to keep on the go all the time. This will necessitate elaborate plans for their relief. Also many of the boats will have to be laid up for repairs after a few hundred hours of continuous service. So the real "enemies" from the Rum Row point of view are the destroyers and they shrug their shoulders and say there are only twenty of these in all, with probably no more than ten on active duty at any one time—after the first six weeks.

The first foray of the government forces is likely to bear good fruit. Even the runners admit that. They also admit that if the blockade is made effective enough to prevent the big rum boats from selling their goods the latter will pull up anchor and sail away.

In that event the bootleggers say they will have to resort once more to smuggling the liquor in from Canada. This entails much work and expense and increases the prices to such an extent that the market is somewhat diminished. But it maintains the incoming supply.

Warfare on Land

The rum runners figure that if they get the dry forces largely at sea they will resort to land warfare. Then if the "dry navy" is reduced in order to supply land forces, the runners will go back to the sea.

However, the "rummies" are waiting to see the extent of the naval warfare before lining up the army for duty along the Canadian border.

So it can be seen that a mere show of force will not prevent the inflow of liquor. The government must be as crafty and as cunning as the rum runners. What the government really needs is a prohibition secret service in which the secret operatives never would be known or be called upon to make an arrest. The United States has a real war on its hands and no pinafore tactics along the twelve-mile front will win it.

SEE CHANGES IN CAMP MEETINGS

Shouting by Converts Is Out Of Style; Cars Replace Mule and Ox Team

By MILLARD FERGUSON
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924.

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 20.—The old-fashioned Georgia camp-meeting isn't what it used to be.

The meeting now in progress at Mount Gilead near Ben Hill, Ga., one of the oldest and most famous camp-meeting grounds in the state, bears witness as to how completely that early manifestation of religious life has been modernized.

Shouting by converts, for instance, has wholly passed out of style.

Everybody drives up in a flivver instead of an ox-cart or mule-drawn buggy.

Bobbed hair prevails among the girls.

In fact, things generally have changed, except for three fundamental particulars:

Fried Chickens

The fried chicken is as good as ever; the religion is as sincere and the spooning is as wholehearted.

Mount Gilead was established twenty years ago by the Methodists and has been the scene of many famous gatherings since then. In the old days people drove to the meeting ground from all parts of the state and some came afoot.

Today the numbers have increased instead of diminishing, but there is not a hitching rack on the grounds. Farmers, business men and preachers all drive up in automobiles and park instead of hitch. Various styles of bobbed hair are exhibited by flappers from Atlanta, Macon, and Augusta and short skirts are much in evidence.

Four services a day are held, with preaching at each—one in the morning, two in the afternoon and one at night. Conversions are frequent, but the converts take their salvation quietly, without shouting.

The sermons are preached in a long open shed called the "arbor," just as they were ninety years ago.

Flivvers Replace Mules

The "tents" for those who wish to live on the camp ground during the meeting are wooden shacks, unpainted and weather-beaten, with the shingles curling from age. When mule-drawn vehicles made locomotion a slow process, many "tented" on the camp grounds. But in this age of flivvers most of the congregation prefers to return home for the night, sometimes traveling distances of thirty to fifty miles.

Following the first sermon, preached at 11 o'clock in the morning, dinner is served on long barbecue tables. Fried chicken, roast beef, barbecued hog, cakes studded with nuts and frosted with icing, sandwiches and stuffed eggs are heaped there, and the motto is: "No one shall go away hungry."

J. L. Peacock, who has been attending camp-meeting at Mount Gilead for sixty years, is one of the old-timers who does not think much of the changes.

Mourns Old Days

"When people got religion back in those days they really got it," he says. "The ministers scorched the sinners with sermons on hell-fire and damnation and the converted believed in shouting over their happiness. You could tell a camp-meeting half a mile off by the shouting and singing. I recall one time when five good people got religion at one of the night services and knelt at the altar nearly all night, while the preacher prayed over them and the choir sang. It was dawn and the fire had burned to ashes when the meeting broke up.

"I remember once when a black snake as long as my arm swung down from one of the cross beams by its tail and Brother Robbins snatched it down and running outside, popped its head off, and never disturbed the meeting.

"And the food—in those days people cooked a whole hog, a yardful of chickens and cake by the armful in preparation for camp-meeting."

WOOD DENIES HE RAIDED WALL ST.

Only Wishes Reports of His $350,000 Cleanup In Stocks Were True

BIARRITZ, France, Aug. 20.—Lieutenant Osborne Wood, son of General Leonard Wood of the Philippines, who was reported to have "cleaned up" a new $350,000 in Wall street, has denied making any speculations.

Lieutenant Wood was reported to have bought Cast Iron Pipe stock at 65, selling it at 105.

In an exclusive statement to International News Service at the Hotel Du Pais Wood said:

Follows Own Advice

"I only wish the report were true. You remember what I told you in the American embassy at Paris at the time I received my honorable discharge from the United States army. I said then that Wall street will get a man in the end if he keeps at it long enough. If you clean up, get out while the getting is good. No one can clean up indefinitely and successfully.

"I have followed my own advice. I have no intention of returning to the market."

GROWERS TO GET COTTON PROFITS

South's Present Crop to Add More Than Two Billions To Farmers' Assets

By J. C. ROYLE
Special correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Indications now point to a cotton crop which will be the second most valuable ever produced in the south. If prices do not suffer recessions and high prices current now are maintained during the season, it may bring growers $2,300,000,000. So far, the traders and speculators have made mighty little pocket money out of the situation and it seems probable the major profits will accrue to the grower rather than the traders in futures.

The most valuable crop ever produced was in 1919 when the south received $2,500,000,000 for 12,400,000 bales marketed that year. The 1920 crop was worth only $1,076,000,000. Last year's crop was the fourth in value ever produced, bringing $1,895,000,000—including prices paid for seed. The south in the last season produced 10,985,000 bales, but marketed 11,290,000, including linters and cotton carried over from the previous year. The average price for middling cotton was 31.67 cents a pound, compared with 24.06 in 1922 and 16.08 in 1920. The average value per bale was $158.89 and was exceeded only in 1919 when the average was $174.58.

Higher Returns

As the price prevailing for the crop produced this year is between $20 and $25 a bale above that of last year and indications are for a production of around 1,500,000 more bales than in 1923, the planters expect additional returns to the extent of about $350,000,000 in 1924. This would seem to involve good business for the south and the country generally, since the crop promises to be more evenly distributed throughout the producing states than the last one.

The prospect for continued high prices has been aided materially by the better chance of rehabilitation in Europe. The discounting of this rehabilitation in advance is now declared by cotton experts to have been the real factor behind the advance in cotton prices last month in the face of prospective production above world requirements. Few traders, however, saw this in time to take advantage of the situation. Even the southern speculators, proverbially bullish, placed more emphasis on the slackness of the goods trade and the favorable weather conditions.

Carry Over Problem

Those who did take advantage of the advance held that the world estimates were being based on consumption records of the five years rather than on pre-war records and that consumption was now on its way back to pre-war levels as a result of the moves for European rehabilitation. If that is the case, a crop of 12,000,000 bales of lint with the smallest carryover ever known before would leave but little if any larger surplus supplies at the end of the year than existed at the end of the last two seasons. These men say mills need a carryover of 5,000,000 bales, to make them thoroughly comfortable. In the meantime, mills are commencing to add materially to their output. This is due to a great number of orders coming in from merchants, especially in the rural districts. But the hope of the wholesalers and manufacturers that the retailers will return to the policy of ordering seasonal requirements months in advance have not been realized and do not seem likely to be, at least as long as the railroads maintain the prompt service now general.

Retailers gathered in recent conventions of various lines have expressed themselves to this effect in no uncertain terms. They declare the wholesalers and manufacturers will have to continue to carry the stocks instead of having the retailers load up on them. They assert that this has worked out to their advantage in more ways than one and place particular emphasis upon the fact that having the maker carry the stocks has prompted greater standardization, fewer style numbers and less frequent style changes.

GOTHAM IS GOAL OF CHORUS GIRL

Stage Beauties Look Coldly On Offers to Perform With Road Shows

By ROBERT T. SMALL
Special correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The New York chorus girl, pictured in fable and song as the possessor of limousines, sables, French maids, and all the other frail appurtenances of millionairedom, may not be as worldly wise or as bad as painted, but she knows what she wants. At this particular moment she wants to stay in New York, and she won't go on the road no matter what the inducement offered. She has got little old Broadway deep down in her system, and she can't give it up.

Theatrical managers who are trying to assemble companies to take a few musical shows on the road this fall report that it is virtually impossible to get any chorus girl to sign a contract calling for any considerable amount of travel.

Call On 'Provinces'

The managers are thinking of sending an S. O. S. call to the "provinces," as they term the great American hinterland, in an effort to induce the girls of other cities to go on the stage and get experience "on the road." They know perfectly well that eventually the country girls will get the same New York idea as the rest of them, but they are hopeful that the "rural" lassies may consent to defer their Broadway debuts for a year or two, in order to fill the gaping ranks of the companies "on tour." None of the chorus girls who nowadays refuse to leave New York are native daughters. They, too, came from the provinces once upon a time, but, to hear them talk, one would think of Broadway as one great, long cradle, lulling to early sleep the Follies beauties of the future.

One theatrical firm resorted recently to the radio in a broadcast appeal to the country surrounding New York, Philadelphia and Boston, to send its daughters to this wicked city, so that they might be considered for chorus duty in a forthcoming production which "hoped" to remain on Broadway, but might have to take to the road to find pay dirt. The "effrontery" of the theatrical folk in this instance caused a great stir among the radio fans. There were demands for some sort of censorship. The stage agents were accused of an attempt to "lure" girls away from home and fireside. The management insisted that the appeal was merely an advertisement which might have been inserted in any theatrical magazine or daily newspaper, for that matter, without comment or criticism. The radio bugs insisted that the appeal be stopped. And it was.

Standard Is High

But still the problem remains of putting shapely limbs in the pony ballet and stately beauties on the stage as "scenery." Managers report that it is, of course, possible to get enough girls to fill many productions, but not girls of the standard required today. Cities in the provinces are demanding productions in every way similar to those seen on Broadway, and will not patronize shows that bear evidence of having been cheapened in any respect. Broadway musical productions have set a high standard for ladies of the ensemble, as they call them nowadadys, and have made it just that much more difficult for the road companies to go out.

For road work, girls are being offered from 50 to 60 per cent more salary than they can get on Broadway. They also are being offered long-term contracts. But these will not suffice.

The chorus girls have much upon their side, if not much upon their backs—as seen by the public. Most of them have comfortable little flats here in New York. Most of them also have "boy friends" of whom they are very, very fond—not college Johnny nor stage door habitues. They are things of the past. Just boy friends of the more or less platonic variety. Then, too, they have their dogs. Even if they could be induced to leave the other comforts and companions, it would be cruel of a manager to expect them to leave their dogs—and road work has proved none too good for Fido.

SENATORS STRONG FACTOR IN RACE

'Watch Washington' Warns Huggins to Yankees As End Is Near

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The feat of the Senators in winning four out of five games from the Detroit Tigers today caused Miller Huggins, manager of the world's champion Yankees, to sound a warning to his players, "Watch Washington."

The Yank leader said he is more fearful of the rush of the Senators than he is of the coming three-game series against the Tigers, which opens here Friday.

Huggins pointed out that the injury to Lou Blue, the Tigers' first sacker, has handicapped Detroit.

Pitchers Weak

"Cobb's young pitchers, who had been going great guns all season, are losing a lot of their effectiveness," Huggins said. "On the contrary, the Senators' twirling staff, led by Walter Johnson, is becoming stronger.

MARK TWAIN'S OLD PAPER SUCCUMBS

Pioneer Journal of Nevada Passes Into Oblivion After Long Career

By GIL A. COWAN
For Southland News Service

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 20.—It was in a ramshackle newspaper office at Virginia City, Nev., where Mark Twain won undying fame as a journalist. It was amid the ghosts of the past, not so far from where scientists are searching for the earliest Aryan races, that the noted author made his reputation as a writer of fiction which has excelled these many years.

Otto Nilsson, general traveling freight and passenger agent of the Union Pacific, has just returned here from a trip to Nevada shipping centers and he recounts how the famous old newspaper known as the Territorial Enterprise under the regime of Goodman & McCarthy, later consolidated with the Virginia City Chronicle, has passed into oblivion.

Twain's desk is in a littered store room with a couple of battered composing stones and a wrecked press. There still is type of ante-bellum variety molding in the cases. One would never recognize it as the inspiration for Twain's humorous masterpieces.

Camp 'Coming Back'

The walls of the printing office are covered with glaring posters of events long since past. There are moth eaten pictures of many famous visitors, for be it known that the old Enterprise was one of the powerful Republican newspapers west of St. Louis for many years, according to Nilsson.

It is the railroad man's opinion that Virginia City is "coming back," for new activity in the old mines is making it a shipping center of importance. The lost mines and ghost cities once again may be rejuvenated as the ingots of gold and silver pour forth.

Who knows what the future holds? The freight agent may have the vision of history repeating itself and another Samuel Clemens making a name equal to that of Mark Twain.

GRADUATE NURSES BANQUET GUESTS

Honoring the fourteen members of the 1924 graduating class from the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, the junior nurses, numbering twenty-three, were hosts last night at the annual junior-senior affair at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse on North Central avenue at Lexington drive.

A banquet in the spacious ball room was the feature of the occasion and proved to be a delightfully informal social gathering of those who have been associated together in training at the local institution.

At 8 o'clock Raymond Jensen, pianist, of Los Angeles, gave a march selection, during which the hosts and guests marched into the ball room, taking their places about a brilliantly decorated square table.

Class Colors Shown

Blue and white, the colors of the senior class, were combined in the decorative scheme. A huge bouquet of flowers in these colors formed the centerpiece. At the places were attractive little favors consisting of white placecards bearing harlequin dolls and nut cups in French blue. These cunning favors were fashioned by Estelle Brain.

Seated in places of honor were Dr. H. G. Westphal, chief surgeon; Mrs. Westphal; Mrs. Daisy D. Harris, superintendent of nurses; Miss Veda Marsh, nurses' instructor. There were thirty-eight persons included in the company.

Greetings from the junior class were given by the class president, Miss Anna Mae Vendell. Responding for the seniors was their class president, Miss Leona Cadwallader, who read a cleverly written class will.

Doctor's Address

Dr. H. G. Westphal was next introduced, and, after a word of greeting, spoke of the happy associations enjoyed by the students at the sanitarium and the success of their work together.

An inspiring talk was also given by Miss Veda Marsh.

Most entertaining was a poem, "The Nurses' Brigade," written by Miss Marguerite Squier and Miss Clara Schafer, and read by Miss Squier.

Miss Irma White was the gracious mistress of ceremonies and after the dinner hour she invited the company into the palm court for the program.

The program included entertainment by Miss Phyllis Carr, whistler, of Los Angeles; Miss Jeanette Gilliland, reader, of Glendale; Raymond Jensen, pianist, of Los Angeles; George Paap, soloist, of Glendale, accompanied by Miss Caroline Moore; Miss Hosler, reader, of Los Angeles.

Sermon on Saturday

One of the special features of the evening was the class prophecy, written by Miss Marguerite Squier and Miss Clara Schaefer and read by Miss Schaefer. The versatility of these two young women was heartily applauded.

The baccalaureate sermon is to be preached Saturday morning, August 23, by Pastor Philip Knox of Long Beach, at the Seventh-day Adventist church on North Isabel street; the graduation exercises will be held Monday night, August 25 in the Glendale Union high school auditorium; and the annual alumni banquet will be held Tuesday night, August 26, at the new sanitarium building.

Teacher Inherits $500,000

ELIZABETH WURTHMAN has resigned her position as a school teacher since an old sweetheart of her grandmother's left her a legacy of half a million because she had been kind to him in his declining years.

NEW YORK, July 28.—Kindness pays. It is paying Elizabeth Wurthman $500,000.

When Louis T. Lehmeyer, who had been one of her grandmother's beaux in Germany died at the age of 94, he left her a half million dollars because she was kind to him in his last days. He lived in a tenement and was thought poor.

It is the second time Miss Wurthman has been made the beneficiary of a will in two years. In 1922 she received $25,000 from the estate of an uncle.

She is a school teacher—or was; she has resigned. She is going to travel in Europe awhile.

Cat Club Officials Plan Yearly Exhibit

Officers for the annual show of the Glendale Cat club will be appointed at the regular club meeting Tuesday night, September 2, at the home of Mrs. B. O. Holbrook, it was announced last night at the social affair sponsored by the club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Card at 209 East Altura street, La Crescenta.

Five hundred and mah jongg were played and an informal social time enjoyed. Mrs. Edith Oie held the highest score for five hundred.

Surgeons Operate at Research Hospital

Evan Shaw of 529 West Alexander street had his tonsils removed this morning at the Glendale Research hospital. A major operation was performed on D. H. Butler of Kansas. Mrs. M. J. Lavin of Topeka, Kan., is a patient in the same institution.

Use of batteries as a means of ignition on English-made automobiles was extremely rare until within the last year.

Walter Gorman Now En Route to Glendale

Walter Gorman, instructor in the wood shop at the Glendale Union High school, sailed from Southampton, England, at noon today, aboard the White Star liner "Homeric," with Mrs. Gorman and his daughter, Mrs. L. C. Levell, for their home at 215 West Chestnut street, according to advices received by J. M. Powers of the Atlas Steamship agency, 119 East Broadway, who booked their passage.

The party will dock at New York August 27 and will arrive in Glendale August 31, via the Santa Fe, Mr. Powers states. They left Glendale June 21 and sailed for Plymouth, England, July 5, aboard the Red Star liner "Belgenland." It was while aboard this ship that Mr. Gorman put Glendale on the map in mid-ocean, when as chairman of the program one night he told several hundred first cabin passengers all about "the fastest growing city in America."

Designed to carry fourteen passengers, a flying boat was recently launched at Southampton, England.

EXPLAINS CLUBS' WORK FOR WOMEN

Federation President Tells Benefits Derived by Individuals

Glendale women are among the California women fortunate during the recent biennial convention in Los Angeles in contacting the vivid personality of Mrs. John D. Sherman, elected president of the General Federation of Women's clubs.

Mrs. Sherman, who served, previous to her election, as national chairman of applied education, was a prominent personality in biennial activities, and her friendships made during that gathering number many Glendale clubwomen.

Her admirers are not limited to club circles, and all women are reading with interest an article from her pen, "What the General Federation Can Do for the Individual Clubwoman," appearing in the September issue of the Woman's Home Companion.

Mrs. Sherman writes in part:

Club Benefits

"The benefits derived by the individual clubwoman from membership in the General Federation are both material and spiritual.

"If you, a woman affiliated with the General Federation, will stop to analyze your feelings, you will discover somewhere in mind or spirit the sense of uplift which comes from the realization that you belong to a body of two million women, all working toward a common end, the betterment of that cross-section of life in which you move. The means may be different, but the object is the same.

"This feeling breaks down all social barriers and blots out distances. Here, there, at every point of the compass, are other women, striving to achieve the same things toward which you are working, thinking along the same lines.

Sense of Power

"There is a knowledge of power gained through federation. As an individual, however keen and earnest, the woman citizen feels powerless in the face of a local, state or national evil which should be corrected or eradicated.

"The whole scheme of federation is built on the individual link. If the local club appoints an unsuitable chairman, if the state federation honors an inefficient member by giving her an office, if an indolent, inefficient or untrained woman is urged upon the national staff of chairmen, everyone concerned suffers. You are disloyal to your organization if you nominate, or endorse, or vote for a woman who cannot do the work of the office well.

Federation Growing

"Think how important it is to select the best woman for a given office in a state where the members of one club meet at houses no two of which are closer than twenty miles; or in another state where the women cross a swollen river in spring and fall bringing their babies and hampers of luncheon to the only social life they have outside their churches!

"The federation is growing as women themselves grow. It is as good as its members, as wise as its members, as efficient as its members. Its programs will be useful as its members make them useful.

"This is the practical business plan of this administration, based on interrelationship of departments, continuity of work, adaptability of programs, discrimination in choice of work, intelligent use of resources, all of them depending upon the individual woman fulfilling the responsibility which is hers as member or officer in club or federation."

SCOUTS ON TRIP TO HIGH SIERRAS

11-Day Camping Program For First Class Boys Among Mountains

The first class Boy Scouts of the Verdugo Hills Council started out Tuesday on their trip to the High Sierras, in the vicinity of Mount Whitney.

At Independence the boys will take charge of a pack train of ten mules and will go into the highest mountains in the United States, for an eleven-day outing. The second day they will cross the Kearsarge Pass, 11,988 feet high. During the trip in the mountains the boys will visit ten different mountain lakes, besides innumerable streams, where they will enjoy the finest trout fishing to be had in the country.

Rouse Ambition

The trip is planned especially for boys who have attained the first class rank in the Scout program, for the purpose of stimulating interest on the part of the boys of lower rank to progress in their work, so that they can go on such a trip next year. The entire trip of eleven days, including transportation, food, pack animals and 500 miles of travel is given to the boys by the Verdugo Hills Council for only $16.25.

The party is composed of eighteen boys and four men. The four men who are going with the boys are as follows: Frank Ayars, chairman of Verdugo Hills Council camping committee; James McNary, Deputy Scout commissioner of Eagle Rock; H. R. Cheesman, Scout executive, and Charles Kausen.

Scouts in Party

The first class Scouts who are going on the trip are as follows: Robert Sinclair, Robert Sturgess, Kenneth Solomon and Lawrence Christenson, of Troop 1, Glendale; Bob Ayars, Charles Bosserman, Lyman Bosserman and Hinson McClay, Troop 3; Charles Kausen, John Torrey, Arthur Barton, Herman Warner and Wilbur Boots, of Troop 2; Robert Eastman and Theron Ramey of Troop 12; Edw. Hamilton, of Troop 10; Homer Reed, Troop 5; and James Hare, Troop 4, Burbank.

Glendale's Fire Unit Helps to Fight Blaze

The Glendale unit of the Angeles Forest Protective association was summoned to assist in extinguishing a fire that destroyed a cabin near Tujunga last night, Leo Land, fire warden and assistant chief, and W. B. Halligan, crew leader, hastening to the scene of the fire after Chief P. J. Hayselden had notified them of the outbreak. Mr. Halligan took with him three of the new extinguishers that had recently been supplied to the unit and helped the Tujunga residents who were already fighting the blaze to check its course toward the high brush surrounding the cabin.

A number of persons had been visiting the cabin during the afternoon, it is stated, and the belief is held that they may have left a fire burning in the cabin.

Increased Prices on Wheat Aid to Farmers

DETROIT, Aug. 20.—The prospective additional profits to the Michigan wheat growers as a result of the advance in prices is placed at $5,000,000 above the estimated returns of June 1. Federal Statistician Verne H. Church estimates the total wheat available in Michigan at 17,300,000 bushels.

Loving words will cost us little,
As along through life we go;
Let us then, make others happy—
If you love them, tell them so.
—Eben E. Rexford.

"AS A MAN THINKETH"

Many people have endeavored to ridicule the philosophy of some "visionaries" who claim that man is limited only by his desires, that a man can be whatever he wishes to be, that he can have whatever he wants. But there is a good deal in this theory after all. No one succeeds who expects to fail. No one realizes his heart's desire unless he works for it, thinks it and expects it.

A man related an instance the other day that illustrates this point. He met a woman most casually in a business way, and she began at once a recital of her troubles. She related a series of incidents comprising a hard luck story that would drive almost anyone to suicide. Those to whom he told the story were very sympathetic, and wondered why some people had to have all the trouble. The man replied that he believed when anyone had so much bad luck as this woman it was her own fault. When asked how this could be he said he didn't know. He had never had his attention called to the theory of constructive and destructive thinking, and yet he felt the woman was responsible for her own condition, though he couldn't explain why. The fact that she had told her story to a stranger gave a clue to her mental attitude.

The late Dr. Orison Swett Marden, an advocate of this philosophy, and, perhaps, the originator of it, has pointed out that there is a mental as well as a physical law of attraction. He compares the human mind to a magnet which draws to it the things that are like our thoughts. Our health, our happiness, our character, our condition in life can be traced back to the mental model. Men who have risen to high places have pictured themselves as successful long before they attained success.

"No matter how hard a man may work," says Dr. Marden, "he can never become prosperous while he holds the thought that he is poor and can never get away from poverty. It is the man who never sees anything but victory, who never acknowledges the possibility of defeat, that wins out. . . . Many are driving away what they are longing and working for by their antagonistic, destructive thinking—their doubts and fears, their prophecies of failure, their visualizing the thing they do not want instead of the thing they do. . . . Some poor people are working hard for prosperity and success, but living in a mental poorhouse, facing toward poverty, thinking poverty, dreading it, talking, acting and thinking like poor people."

A man who is learning to drive a car sees some obstruction ahead, a tree, for instance. He doesn't want to hit the tree, he wants to keep in the road, but instead of concentrating his thoughts and his eyes on the road, he keeps them on the tree, and, of course, steers straight for what he wishes to avoid. So, in working for success, but dreading failure, the individual keeps his thought on failure, and so steers away from success.

"As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he," has a material as well as a spiritual application.

BUSINESS LOOKING UP

Improvement in business and industrial conditions is reported throughout the country. A sharp advance in bank clearings is noted and bank loans are said to be loosening up, due to the marketing of grain crops at advanced prices. Also the successful termination of the London conference with the acceptance of the Dawes report and the settlement of the reparations problem has had no little influence on business, it is said.

There is increased activity everywhere, but we cannot expect the crest of the wave of prosperity to strike us until after November 4. There is bound to be a slight lack of confidence at this time. If President Coolidge is re-elected a period of great business activity is looked for. We have only to go back a year of the time of President Harding's death to recall how everything came to a standstill for a few days until President Coolidge announced his intention of continuing the policies of the administration. Then came a great sigh of relief and a resumption of business. There was the same condition apparent in this state at the time of the presidential primary. There was a period of waiting and uncertainty, but when California showed her confidence in the president and his policies business took an upward trend.

Should La Follette be elected or the selection of a president thrown into the Senate there would of necessity be a period of slow business and lack of confidence. And this would continue until the new president re-established confidence or until after the next presidential election.

Re-election of Coolidge will encourage the upward trend of business and insure prosperity to the country.

PLUCK WINS

Ambition and hard work are a combination that almost always win out. Eight or ten years ago Emily Squier lived in Glendale and was the Glendale correspondent of a Los Angeles newspaper. She tramped indefatigably about the streets from city hall to police station and wherever there was a chance of getting an item of news, and she was not very successful, for Glendale was neither large nor important in those days, and Los Angeles papers did not care for news of Glendale unless it was something sensational. But Emily Squier was ambitious and she had the capacity for hard work. She finally won a place on the paper she worked for, later became a writer for a society magazine, and now Emma Lindsay Squier is a short story writer of national fame. Her stories appear in Good Housekeeping, The Ladies' Home Journal, Hearst's Magazine, Smith's Magazine and Asia.

Her book, The Wild Heart, is a series of animal stories published first in a magazine. She has been given commissions to Nova Scotia and Alaska to study animals for series of stories. In addition to her animal stories, which are written in a fascinating style, she is the author of charming tales of Chinese life. She also teaches a class in short-story writing in connection with the Extension Department of the University of California. Miss Squier is now Mrs. George L. Mark, and she resides in San Diego. Glendale people have been glad to see this lady win such an enviable place in the literary world.

Some one is always picking out the most beautiful woman. Other women have a right to their opinion.

The east is suffering from heat and storms. But the zero hour will soon come for them.

If we could have everything we wanted, what fun would there be in wanting?

THIS SCARECROW DOESN'T KEEP 'EM OUT OF THE PATCH

A Woman's Best Age

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Balzac is supposed to have said that the dangerous age of a woman is thirty-five. Just exactly what he means by dangerous we do not know, but there is no doubt that a woman is at her best around thirty-five. Before that time she is too cocksure. She knows too much of life, also too little.

The loss of her ideals is still a surprise to her, and means too much, and her experience may have made her a little bitter.

Beyond the age of thirty-five a woman is apt to get matronly.

The ideal age of a woman, therefore, is about thirty-five. Very many women who have had little charm as young girls have suddenly become the most delightful persons in early middle age. They have learned to understand men by that time and expect less of life than younger women. They usually dress very well and are easily pleased.

They are not so temperamental nor so easily disappointed. They understand that they can be happy once in a while without being happy all the time.

About thirty-five a woman is almost always an admirable hostess; she has traveled, she has read and she has met people and, therefore, she makes an excellent companion. She stimulates a man to his best, but she is also a rest to him and has come to find out that busy men seek from women the benediction of rest perhaps more than any other quality.

She is not so conscious of her youth and hence has a becoming humility.

Women of every age can be charming, the old as well as the young, but a woman is at her best when she has passed her first youth and not yet entered upon old age, as far as men are concerned.

Of course everyone will judge of this according to his own likes and dislikes and in accordance with his experience with differing personalities, but, on the whole and on the average, a woman of thirty-five makes the best companion for every man's business or leisure.

Many women who in their youth were unattractive, as they near forty become charming, agreeable and attractive, so that their companionship is appreciated by all their friends as it was not before.

The young girl who is still pretty and fresh, holding the delicate bloom of childhood, may be a delightful companion for occasions, but she is difficult to please and is uncertain as to her moods and she is not so dependable as those of older years.

Horoscope

While Mars in benefic aspect rules early in the morning, according to astrology, Saturn, Uranus and Mercury are all adverse.

Although there may be stimulating vibrations encouraging men toward decisive activities, reversals and disappoinemtns are deemed probable under this planetary rule.

This is a time when great enterprises will be planned in many cities, but they should be merely dreamed of at this time.

Saturn is in menacing sway and is likely to thwart much that is constructive.

Labor troubles, reorganizations in business houses and unsettled conditions in trade may mark the next month, but they are merely indications of coming upheavals in commercial relations.

All the signs appear to denote a growing efficiency in all lines of work and an increase of business economy, the seers declare.

Both men and women must become exeprts in anything they do, if the stars are read aright.

Seismic troubles again are indicated and much volcanic activity may be expected before the end of the year.

Occultists declare that the fermentation of men's thoughts is reflected by nature, and for this reason they again predict violent storms of wind and rain.

Serious troubles may be expected in eastern Europe, if the signs are rightly interpreted, for Neptune and Mars will exercise malign influence.

Deaths among artists and other persons of note are presaged by the stars. Persons of highly organized and sensitive nature should safeguard the health.

Heart disease will be prevalent, it is prophesied again, and the seers enjoin the sort of mental dominion that is able to dismiss worry.

Persons whose birth date it is have the augury of a busy, happy year, but hey must beware of letters or papers that may cause them trouble.

Children born on this day probably will be quick-witted, energetic and optimistic. These subjects of Leo are on the cusp and often partake of the best Virgo characteristics.

Today's Poem

'A ROSE WILL FADE'

You were always a dreamer, Rose
—red Rose,
As you swung on your perfumed spray,
Swinging, and all the world was true,
Swaying, what did it trouble you?
A rose will fade in a day.

Why did you smile to his face, red Rose,
As he whistled across your way?
And all the world went mad for you,
All the world it knelt, to woo.
A rose will bloom in a day.

I gather your petals, Rose—red Rose,
The petals he threw away,
And all the world derided you;
Ah! the world, ho well it knew
A rose will fade in a day!
—Dora Sigerson Shorter.

RATHER CURIOUS

Brown came home from the office, hung up his coat and hat and looked around for Mrs. Brown.

"Oh, Alice!" he called, but there was no reply. He walked out to the kitchen, but she wasn't there. Then he went to the steps and called up the stairs.

"Oh, Alice!"

"Here I am, Dick," came a faint voice.

Brown went upstairs and found Mrs. Brown in a bedroom closet with her head bent over an old trunk.

"Well, what on earth are you trying to dig up out of that old trunk?" Brown demanded.

"Oh, Dick,"-the Mrs. answered. "Do you remember where I put that picture of Aunt Alice?"

Dick thought over the matter for a moment. Then:

"Is she coming to see us again?"

Who's Who

WILHELM CUNO

Wilhelm Cuno, former chancellor of Germany, is being boomed for president of the German republic to succeed President Ebert. The election is to be held next May. The term is for seven years.

Cuno is expected to be placed on a non-partisan ticket. He is not attached to any of the German bourgeois parties.

Cuno was known internationally before the formation of the republic and the political changes wrought. He was director of the Hamburg-American steamship line and spent some time in other countries in connection with his duties.

He was asked to form a German cabinet and become chancellor when the Wirth administration fell in 1922. He labored earnestly, but ineffectually, to settle the reparations problem.

The Ravings Of a Grouch

Some may think me unqualified to discuss love-making and while I must confess I have had no practical experience I have had abundant opportunity to learn by observation. I know that a bachelor is incompetent to judge justly in such matters but I have never been able to understand why a woman should want to take leave of her husband in the morning on the front porch or the street corner or poised on the running board of his car, and meet him in the evening in the same place. Is it because she is so proud of him or does she want to show the neighbors and the public that all is well between them? Is she trying to make up by a public show what is lacking in private? I know that such is not the case in many instances but strangers seeing such a display wonder if the private life of the couple is all that this would seem to indicate.

I cannot believe there are many men who really like this sort of thing. One poor fellow, a street car acquaintance of mine, has all my sympathy. His wife, attired in bathrobe, boudoir slippers and cap, accompanies him every morning to the corner where he takes the car. He must embrace this slovenly creature in plain sight of this carful of people and then wave to her after the car has started. He must be a very strong character for it seems to me he has abundant grounds for divorce.

In the same class is the couple who habitually address each other in endearing terms in company. In more than one case I have noticed that these endearments mean nothing at all. Sweetheart and darling might just as well be macaroni and spaghetti as far as any meaning that attaches to the words. This is force of habit with some while others affect, in public, a devotion to each other which they do not feel, just for the looks of the thing.

There are those who are disgusted at young people who make love on park benches or on street cars and other public places but to me this is not half so silly as when married people make a display of themselves. The young lovers may have no other place to do their love-making.

I am not blind to the fact that real affection is often back of these public displays on the part of married couples and yet most of the people of my acquaintance whom I know to be happily married show restraint when they are in the presence of others. They feel their affection is sacred between them and that it in no wise concerns the public.

But before I get into deep water and before I hear the women saying "sour grapes" will draw this discussion to a close.

NERVE OF WOMEN SHOWN ON TRAIL

Dude Wrangler Finds Gentle Sex More Courageous Than Men Folks

By L. C. OWEN

Special Correspondence of the Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

CAMP CURRY, Yosemite, Aug. 20.—The males of the species may be calmly self sufficient in the safe reaches of city confines, but in the great open spaces where nature impresses with her stupendousness, the gentler sex has it all over him for unadulterated nerve in the face of danger.

Such is the testimony of Mrs. Bertha Blancett, America's only woman dude wrangler, who daily pilots tourists—mostly tenderfoot tourists—over the perilous and near perilous mountain trails of the great Yosemite National Park.

For three years now, Mrs. Blancett has been Yosemite's official wrangler and in that interim has played guardian angel to more than 5000 horseback sightseers over the precipitous trails to Glacier Point, Half Dome, Cloud's Rest, Inspiration Point, Vernal Falls, the spectacular Pohono ridge, and other high and rarefied points of Yosemite interest—trails that furnish even the hardened forest rangers a "kick." More than half of the tourists were women.

Stay on Horses

"Women may be just as easily frightened as men, but they show it less," she declares. "Lots of times when the going gets close—when you can look straight down out of your saddle for a half mile or more and the slip of a hoof means perdition—men frequently get off their horses and insist on walking. Women rarely ever quit their horses. Lots of times they shut their eyes, and, I imagine, do a lot of silent praying—but they freeze to their saddle horns like grim death and stick with the processions.

"Women also are less headstrong and more easily managed than men; less inclined to show off. The greatest trouble with male tourists who go horseback riding over the mountain trails is that almost all of them want to run their horses whenever there is no danger. When the trail gets narrow and the edge has a straight up and down vista, however, they show a lot less speed."

In further substantiation of her observations that the female of the species stacks up pretty well in the matter of iron in the blood Mrs. Blancett cites Yosemite's famous overhanging rock as an example. The overhanging rock is a six-ton boulder, nicely balanced on the highest part of Glacier Point. Sitting on the outer rim of the rock, one can look straight down into the chimneys of Camp Curry, 4000 feet below. Climbing out on to this rock and having one's picture "took" is a prize stunt.

Women Take Risk

"More women go out on the overhanging rock than do men," asserts Mrs. Blancett. "But there is a difference in the way they do it. Invariably they are slow and careful. They seldom stand up, whereas, the men who go out usually must pose for the benefit of the onlookers. There have been more women who have gone out on that rock than men—but the only ones who ever fall are men."

Mrs. Blancett, who herds her tourists over Yosemite's perilous trails as efficiently as could any man, and who in her three years of dude wrangling never had an accident befall any of her tenderfoot wards, is a typical western woman of the rapidly passing frontier type. Until the death of her husband, Dell Blancett, famous western bronco buster, slightly more than three years ago, she was a professional "contest" rider participating in rodeos and wild west exhibitions all over the west. On four occasions she won the women's bucking horse riding championships at the famous Cheyenne and Pendleton round-up celebrations.

Slender, lithe, still retaining what women term "complexion" despite the ravages of blazing sun and mountain winds, Mrs. Blancett is a very capable dude wrangler. Her word is law and is accepted as such among the thousands of tourist "trippers" whom she convoys to and from the Sierras' high places.

Thousands Use This Clean, Colorless Liquid to Banish

Gray Hair

Results in a Week

If your hair is gray, don't worry about it. Do what thousands of others have done. Use the clean, colorless liquid known as Kolor-Bak and see the former color quickly return, no matter what that color was—brown, black, red, blonde.

Kolor-Bak is a proved substitute for the natural pigmentation of the hair. It is not sticky, mussy or greasy. Just as easy to use as water. With Kolor-Bak, there is no dyed, streaked look, no unevenness, and the hair becomes glossy and takes on new "life" and lustre.

People who have used Kolor-Bak give reports like the following:

"It restored the natural color to my hair and cured my little girl of dandruff."

"My hair was perfectly white—now brown as when young."

"My hair began to turn natural color in twelve days."

"Hair was streaked with white. Now black once more and dandruff all gone."

Kolor-Bak is not only a color restorer, but a valuable hair tonic. It cleanses the scalp, removes dandruff and prevents the hair from becoming brittle and falling out.

Get rid of your grayness right now. Kolor-Bak will do it. Ask for a bottle today. Kolor-Bak is sold with money-back guarantee if results do not satisfy.

Son, Reported Killed In War, Seeks Mother

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 20.—James Kennedy, World war veteran, has taken up his abode in Burbank, R. F. D. 1, Box 37, after a disappointing two years' search from one end of the continent to the other for his mother, whom he left at their Oklahoma home when he entered the service in 1917.

Kennedy was wounded, but the notice received by his mother stated he had been killed. When he finally returned to the United States from France, the old home had been sold and his mother had left. For two years he has sought her.

Today he asked the sheriff's office to help him find her. He believes she lives in some suburb of Los Angeles.

Release of American In Mexico Demanded

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Stern demands for the immediate release of R. G. Barrinean, American lumberman, held for ransom by bandits in the state of Durango, Mexico, were made to the Mexican government today by the state department. The apprehension and punishment of the kidnapers also was demanded.

Barrinean, a native of South Carolina, was manager of the Crock & Lard Lumber company, and was kidnaped at Tepehuanos, Durango, and taken into the hills, said a report to the department from American Consul David J. B. Myers at Durango, who has gone to Tepehuanos to aid in the investigation.

LAST RITES FOR DROWNING VICTIM

Ronald Flankard Laid to Rest In Grand View After Tragic Death

LA CRESCENTA, Aug. 20.—Another La Crescenta child met death by drowning while playing in the river at Downey. The young victim was Ronald Slinkard, the 7-year-old son of Mrs. R. Atchison of Sycamore avenue. The youngster was playing with two other little fellows wading in the water when Ronald stepped into a hole about 7 feet deep, and was drowned before help could reach him. The funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at Grand View Memorial park, Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bissel of Hi Up Ranch have returned to La Crescenta following the remains of little Molly, who died of diphtheria while the Bissels were in Oregon on their tour through the northwest.

Mrs. Louise Erwin of Michigan avenue spent the week-end visiting friends in Ventura.

Mrs. Flora Muller, who taught in the La Crescenta schools for the past two years, visited friends in the La Crescenta valley on Monday.

The Jennings Young home on Los Angeles avenue has been leased to Dr. and Mrs. MacKnight of Los Angeles, who will make their home here for an indefinite period.

Dr. E. L. Wemple of Verdugo City is driving the first Packard in the valley.

Help Build Church

Work amounting to about $200 was donated to the members of St. Luke of the Mountains when the workmen, voluntarily, gave a day's work as their contribution to the building fund. The women of the Guild served supper to the workers, who laid the cement floor in the basement as the day's work. Several interested friends of the church came out from town, donned overalls and worked, too.

The funds have run out but a tar paper roof has been placed over the little church to protect the interior. Windows are needed badly, and Mr. Wiley, the lay reader, who comes from Huntington Park to conduct the services, has volunteered to place in the church, temporarily, plain windows, and as an added gift has promised a memorial window costing $1000. The window will bear the appropriate picture of the Sermon on the Mount.

The women of the Guild are busy preparing for a bazaar to be held in October to raise funds toward completing the church. On Saturday Mrs. Emily Scoles of Flintridge will give a silver tea at her home for the building fund. Mrs. C. E. Culberson also is planning a tea for the same purpose, while Mrs. C. Turck and Mrs. M. Collins will give one later on.

Children's Party

Cuddle Doon, the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Thomas, was the setting for a happy birthday party given for the fortunate children whose birthday came in August. These children, all members of St. Luke of the Mountains church school, had a joint birthday cake, and the honorees also received appropriate cards from the church school teachers.

The following are those who held the joint celebration of their natal day: Emmet L. Wemple, Philip and Margaret Brown, Jane Ellen Anderson, William Haskins, Marion Wygant, John Cleeves, Bruce MacDonald.

Mrs. A. F. Hopkins of Highway Highlands has been entertaining as her guests Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Gilmore of Pittsburgh, Pa. The Gilmores were accompanied by their daughter.

A triple birthday was the motive for a luncheon party given by Mrs. Seymour Thomas at Cuddle Doon yesterday. The birthdays so celebrated were: Seymour Thomas', John Steven McGroarty of Tujunga and the first anniversary of definite building plans for the Episcopal mission St. Luke of the Mountains. The luncheon was a quiet, informal family one with the McGroarty and Thomas families.

Twelve arrests on Pennsylvania avenue in one day is the record the traffic officers are making in the war on speeders who have menaced the valley for months in the past. The people of La Crescenta valley are taking drastic measures to make the boulevards safe for autoists and pedestrians alike.

Burbank Rock Plant Cause of Litigation

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 20.—Homer A. Hansen, one of the former owners of the Independent Rock & Gravel company of Burbank, today filed an answer and cross-complaint to an action brought against the gravel company by the Los Angeles Land & Water company. The land company alleged its property was damaged by the erection of a rock crushing plant and excavation of rock on a lot next to its own property. Hansen, in his cross-complaint, in which he makes Mrs. Lewis Kane and J. A. Carter the defendants, alleges he sold his interest in the rock company and sold the lot to Mrs. Kane several months ago. The sale was with the express stipulation, he claims, that no rock crusher would be erected on the property for a period of ten years.

"It's easy to clean a "Check" Seal home"

ELECTRICITY does most of the cleaning in a "Check" Seal equipped home. For "Check" Seal contractors see that every room has handy electrical outlets to connect the vacuum cleaner.

Employ a "Check" Seal contractor and buy "Check" Seal appliances. Stop beating rugs on the front lawn. Keep window drapes bright with suction cleaning. Clean the floors, sweep the rugs, take up the dust in hard-to-get-in corners.

That's how "Check" Seal homes are cleaned. Electricity does the hard work—electricity that is well equipped—convenient outlets in every room and reliable electrical appliances, including the "Check" Seal vacuum cleaner.

Put a "Check" Seal installation in your new home. You'll get complete electrical equipment at a fair price. And with such an installation there'll be a place to connect all your "Check" Seal appliances.

IN the interest of better electrical service, we publish the "Electrical 'How' for Householders," a booklet which describes and illustrates the latest and most efficient methods for the use of electricity. The 1924 edition of this booklet can be had free from "Check" Seal contractors and retailers or by writing to our nearest office.

The "Check" Seal is the trade mark of the Pacific States Electric Company—the largest distributor of electrical merchandise on the Pacific Coast. Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

INHERITED FAT

"Dear Doctor Lulu:—I can't express how thankful I am to you for helping me to reduce. I can't praise your method too much. I started to count my calories and lost about 36½ pounds in about four months. I lost a pound a week the last two months, and it is so easy and not so noticeable, and you do not become too pale and old looking. This was how I went about it.

"The first two days I took the liquid diet. After that, about 1000 C. for three days. From then on, between 1200 and 1300, and in two weeks, I had lost 12 pounds.

"Before I went on the diet I had kidney trouble and fearful sick headaches most of the time. I went on diets before but I almost starved and lost no weight. Now I feel fine; never sick, do my daily dozen each morning and feel like a new person. I am five feet, six and one-half inches tall, 31 years of age and my weight is 185½ (previous weight 221½). How much ought I to weigh?

"My thighs are terribly fat and they do not seem to get any smaller. If I walk any distance, I chafe so badly that they bleed. Can you suggest some way to take them down faster? I do a lot of exercise.

"In closing, let me say that I come of a large family, every person fat, all weigh more than I did. Everyone said I would ruin my stomach and would be sick for the rest of my life, and they made all sorts of fun of me. Those who laugh last, laugh best, eh? Will you please send me the name of that apparatus you wrote about?

"Many, many thanks to you and your calories.—Mrs. A. N."

According to our rule of 110 pounds for five feet in height, in stocking feet, and five and one-half pounds for every inch over that, your weight, for five feet six and one-half inches, should be about 146. You are still considerably overweight. When you get down to normal, I predict you will have no more excess thigh to sigh about.

The name of the roller has been sent to you if you enclosed s. a. s. e. Do you do kicking exercises? A good kicking exercise is to stand three or four feet back of a chair and kick (one foot at a time!) describing a circle over the top of the chair. Begin 10 times with each kicker, and gradually increase, until you can do at least 100. In two months' time you will see a decided reduction in your measurement.

This idea that one has to be fat because some one in the family is fat, is all wrong and has caused a lot of unwarranted resignation to conditions that can be remedied. You would have ruined your stomach, had you continued to overeat for your needs, and your kidneys and all your other organs, too, as you had begun to do.

Anemic Girls

Mrs. G. and B.—You say your daughter is 17, very much underweight and has not menstruated yet. You ask whether I think certain back punching exercises will do her any good.

No! I think they will not do her any good; they might cause paralysis and might kill her. A great many more fatalities occur from these treatments than you ever see in the newspaper columns.

It is normal for some girls not to menstruate until 17 years of age and sometimes after that, especially if they are anemic and underweight, or if they are the reverse—plethoric and overweight. She should be out in the sunshine and air as much as possible, enjoy outdoor sports—tennis, swimming, and so forth, not to such an extent that she will get too tired and eat and eat and eat—a quart of milk a day, a lot of whole-wheat bread and butter, cereals, nuts, vegetables, fruits. She should have nine hours of sleep.

Tomorrow—Answers to Correspondents

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible; if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

One of the sweetest things that one can make for a baby, is a knitted shoulder comfort, or bed jacket, which consists of one long strip which is doubled at either end to form short sleeves for the arms to go through. Materials are: two balls of three-fold fingering yarn or ripple wool (costing about 50 cents a ball), one pair of three and a half bone needles and also one pair of five and a half bone needles (these cost around 25 cents a pair, generally, although prices differ in different localities).

Terms: K means knit. P means purl. N means narow (that is, knit two stitches together as one stitch). St. means stitch. S. C. means single crochet. D. C. means double crochet that is, thread over the needle, draw up a new loop, draw through two and through two).

Using the three and one-half size needle, begin by casting on 40 stitches. K. two, P two for two inches, making the cuff. Widen one in every other st. by knitting both the front and the back of the st. Knit these 60 stitches for six rows, then change to the five and one-half size needles and knit till the entire work is 17 inches long (or longer, if desired for a large infant). Now change back to the smaller needles and knit six rows. On the next row narrow at every other st. so that there will be 40 in all, and finish with two inches of K two, P two. Bind off loosely. Sew up the cuffs and one and one-half inches beyond (to make a sleeve).

Finish one edge with scallops to within four inches of the cuffs, the scallop consisting of one single crochet in the second space and four double crochet in the second space beyond, repeat to the end. Form the collar by turning the scalloped edge back two inches at the middle. Put a fancy bow of ribbon at the ends of the collar, and run the ribbon through at the neck for ties in front.

These pretty and useful little shoulder comforts may also be made with dainty quality of flannel or with challis, in the same manner. The crochet directions given above are for a garment which will fit a baby under one year old.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman, in care of the "Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use YOUR full name, street number, and the name of your city and state.—The Editor.

CHAPTER XXXI.

"Dora had Madame von Hinz do two miniatures of her, and gave one to Cecil Atherton," Craig explained, suddenly. "I may be old-fashioned, but I object to my wife making herself—— However, I won't discuss it! I am going to my club, and whenever Dora wants me to come back she knows exactly what to do!"

"Yes, but, Craig—but, Craig ——" Hilary pleaded, anxiously. "There was nothing in that. Women do give their pictures——"

"Well, then, don't count on coming back, Craig!" Dora, who had sprung out of bed, and was sweeping about in a loose, lacy wrapper, said, ill-temperedly, interrupting her sister. She moved to the mantel, snatched down a large letter that stood against the clock, looked at it fretfully, and flung it into the fire. She was standing, with one bare, thin young arm resting against then mantel, and her brown eyes looking stormily at Craig from under a cloud of tousled hair, when he abruptly left the room.

Hilary, who felt as if hope and joy and youth were for ever dead between them, remained standing, aghast, in the pretty disorder of the sun-flooded bedroom. Dora had really attempted that poised and ready evasion yesterday! Dora! The gold-and-crystal clock ticked with punctual gaiety; the wood fire snapped and crackled, and the shafts of sunshine found Craig's big photograph, on Dora's dressing table, and brightly touched the serious handsome face in the heavy silver frame.

Dora was breathing hard, her face looked dark. She poked the end of a burning log with a pink satin mule.

"Butterfly, are you crazy?" Hilary asked, at last.

Dora shot her a resentful glance.

"Please, don't you begin!" she said, rudely.

"Why, Dora, I don't know you!" Hilary reproached her, tenderly, sitting down beside her, and taking possession of one of the soft, boneless little hands. "I can't understand you. If Craig was unreasonable, if he were merely cross—but what could be more reasonable than that he shouldn't like his wife to give another man her portrait—why, that was a terrible thing to do, sweetheart! And I can't think what possessed you to do it, either," continued Hilary, coaxingly, as if to a very small child. "Why, I don't know what you were thinking about! Craig was so pleased with your thought for him, too—— And by the way," she broke off to ask suddenly, "how did he find out? Did you tell him?"

"No, it was that idiot of a man I had frame it," Dora said, vexedly. "I deliberately didn't take it to Tiff's, because I thought they might recognize me. I went to this other place, and I no sooner had the order placed than this creature said to me, 'It's Mrs. Craig Spaulding, isn't it?' I warned him, but you know what they are! The next day he calls up the house here, to ask if he shall mail the package, and if I want it insured, as Mr. Atherton is not at his club! Cecil was up in Rhinebeck. Fool! Craig was at home, it was just after breakfast, Christmas Eve, and he took the message. And Craig waits all this time, two whole days, and broods and rages, and works himself into a fever—I won't stand it! What I do is none of Craig's business——"

"It's very decidedly his business what his wife does," Hilary said, gently, as her sister stopped short. "You're too young, Butterfly, you're too pretty——"

"Oh, heavens!" Dora exclaimed, almost at a shout. And immediately she called out to the invisible maid: "Yes, come in, Emma! Miss Swensen is coming at nine this morning, because I have to get out by eleven, so get my breakfast now, that's a good girl. I won't have by bath until she's done with me. And send Alice up with the letters——"

Composedly gathering her laces about her, Dora climbed back into bed.

"Don't worry, Sis," she said, reassuringly. "Craig and I are always having rows like this!"

But Hilary, going down to her own breakfast, worried profoundly. She was disappointed in Dora and frightened for her; the whole sordid affair alarmed her deeply. That it should be Butterfly—this lovely, cross, unreasonable little woman among the pink-and-white pillows! And that Craig should take this school-girl nonsense so seriously. There was never any real mischief in Dora.

Craig was gulping the last of his coffee. When the man-servant was out of the room he said briefly and composedly:

"I wouldn't let myself worry, Hilary. She'll come round. It makes me pretty sick that she could do it, but Butterfly's only a child, you know. It's Atherton——"

His tone grew suddenly grim; he stopped.

"Craig, you can't think that she wants to marry him?" Hilary asked, trying to make her laugh sound reassuring.

"Marry him!" Craig said, contemptuously. "How on earth could she marry him? He hasn't a cent—his brother sends him a check quarterly. Archer met him in Flanders, during the war, and he's staying with the Archers up in Rhinebeck, to get over being gassed, or trench feet, or something. He's been here six months or so now; he said quite frankly the other day that he had to get a job or go home—came down to see me about it in the office. He dances, of course, and he plays tennis and golf, and Dora thinks that America ought to have a leisure class! Why, his whole estate, his brother's estate, wouldn't pay her servants!"

Many tests may be more difficult to take, but none could be more enjoyable than "The Love Test," a full length play now showing nightly at the tent theatre of Murphy's Comedians on Stocker street, Casa Verdugo, at the corner of Central avenue. The curtain rises each night at 8 o'clock.

"The Love Test" is from the clever pen of Joseph P. Judge. It is of the hilarious rural type, the dramatics strong and the comedy keen. All classes will enjoy this play, and children are finding it one of the funniest shows they have yet seen at Murphy's tent.

A large audience again last night greeted the play, which, according to Manager J. A. Menard of these players, is enjoying its initial Pacific coast showing here.

Two Drowned as Flood Sweeps Northeast Iowa

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Aug. 20.—Two men are known to be dead today and many other lives and homes are imperiled by the floods which resulted from the terrific rainstorm that struck northeastern Iowa yesterday afternoon.

In the Big Creek district, near Bertram, Ia., Claude Barrett and J. M. Schly were drowned in the flood waters when they attempted to look after their live stock.

Only meager reports are available from the storm district, as wire service is badly crippled. Linn and Cedar counties were said to have suffered the most. Farms were inundated, three feet of water being reported on some of them.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE DARK HOLE

Uncle Wiggily was hopping down the seashore beach one day, letting the warm golden, sun shine on his rheumatism pain, and he was feeling quite happy when, all of a sudden, he felt some sand shower down the back of his neck.

"Ah, it must be blowing up a storm," said the old rabbit, gentleman to himself. "I had better hop back to my driftwood bungalow."

But, when he looked around, he saw that same little tyke of a Sand Flipper who, once before, had been naughty toward the bunny. The little chap was walking along the beach with his mother, and she saw him throwing sand on Uncle Wiggily.

"Oh, you mischievous boy!" cried the Sand Flipper's mother. "You promised never again to be so bad! You must excuse him, Uncle Wiggily, if you please, for showering sand down your back."

"Yes, I will forgive him," spoke the rabbit uncle, for he saw that the Sand Flipper looked sorry.

"But that isn't enough," said Mrs. Flipper. "Scoopie must be punished." You see the San Flipper's name was Scoopie, for he scooped up sand in his paws. "Yes, Scoopie must be punished," said Mrs. Flipper. "I am going to let you punish him yourself, Uncle Wiggily. What would you say ought to be done to a little Sand Flipper who teases old gentlemen rabbits?"

"I should put him in a dark hole," said Uncle Wiggily, after blinking his eyes and thinking about it.

"Oh, don't put me in a dark hole; Please don't!" sobbed the bad little Sand Flipper. "I'll never throw anything at Uncle Wiggily again! I'll give him all the money in my penny bank, but please don't put me in a dark hole!"

"You were bad and must be punished!" said Mrs. Flipper, sad, but firm.

"Yes," went on Uncle Wiggily. "He must be put in the dark hole—but," and the rabbit gentleman smiled and gaily twinkled his pink nose, "but I will stay in the dark hole with him—how's that?"

"Oh! Oh!" gasped the little Sand Flipper. "Oh—er—now—well, I don't mind going in the dark hole if you go with me, Uncle Wiggily! I won't be afraid then."

"All right," said the bunny, "we must look for a good dark hole. You skip along home, Mrs. Flipper, and I'll punish Scoopie by taking him in a dark hole with me."

Mrs. Flipper skipped home and, after hopping along the beach for half a mile or so, Uncle Wiggily found a fine dark hole beneath a pile of rocks.

"We shall go in here, Scoopie," said the bunny, taking the little Sand Flipper by the paw and leading him into the hole. Oh, it was very dark! It was as black as a bottle of ink or the inside of your pocket or the coal bin—very dark.

"But I'm not afraid now 'cause you're with me," said the Flipper to the bunny. So they stayed in the dark hole, sitting on piles of seaweed, and Uncle Wiggily told bedtime stories to the Sand Flipper. And while they were in there, punishing Scoopie, along the beach flopped the Walrus, looking for Uncle Wiggily to nibble his ears.

But the Walrus couldn't find the rabbit, because the bunny was in the dark hole with the Sand Flipper, and after a while off and away flopped the Walrus, very much out of temper.

"Well, I guess you have been punished enough Scoopie," said Mr. Longears, as he finished the tenth bedtime story. "Now we shall go out of the dark hole and eat icecream."

So Scoopie had a good time after all, and he didn't throw any more sand on Uncle Wiggily that day. But, if the egg beater doesn't shake pepper on the gold fish to make it swim faster and splash the wall paper, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the sand pie.

BEAVERS VICTORS IN OPENING GAME

Tigers Taste Bitter Defeat As Portlanders Gather Hits Off Ludolph

By C. R. SIMMONS
For Southland News Service.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 20.—The Portland Beavers kicked the mud off their boots, threw away their losing jinx and defeated the Vernon Tigers, 6 to 3, in the opening game of the series here yesterday.

Manager Essick of the Tigers picked the lanky "Wee" Ludolph to do the twirling, hoping to cop the opening contest, but the same old story was repeated—no pitching. Not bad, but not so good, so defeat was charged to Vernon moundsman. Bunching their hits in the fourth and fifth frames, the Beavers put across five of their six tallies. A circuit clout by Dickie Cox in the fifth assisted in laying defeat at the feet of Ludolph.

After allowing a one run lead in the first canto, Ludolph came to bat in the second inning with the bases full, fouled a couple practice shots then connected for a deep double to right driving in the Tigers' three scores.

Los Angeles became more secure of the cellar position by losing to the Salt Lake Mormons yesterday, 7 to 4. Three Angel pitchers were unable to stop the buzzing bees.

San Francisco took an early lead, defeating the Sacramento Solons in yesterday's tilt, 9 to 3. Defeat and victory were charged respectively to Prough and Shea. Sixteen hits were garnered by the Seals during the contest.

At Seattle, the Oaklanders took a close game from the Indians, 3 to 2. The "Great" Walter Mails held the Oaks to five scattered bingles.

CALIFORNIA GIRL SAFE ON THRONE

Small Possibility of Being Beaten by Any Player In United States

By LAWRENCE PERRY
Special correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—If we except two young Boston girls Helen Wills' horizon contains no dark clouds. So far as this country is concerned, she is firmly seated upon the queenly throne.

Miss Mary Browne, of California, was her most dangerous obstacle, but, having surmounted this, fair Helen's horoscope reads serenely, indeed.

As for the young New England stars, it is always futile to attempt to construe the 12 or 14-year-old star into the coming champion. Tennis is a curious game and the past has shown how seldom the prodigies develop as one, in view of their juvenile skill, would expect them to progress.

Gives Ratings

Mrs. Mallory made a game try to re-establish herself but, frankly, it would appear that only the good fortune of the draw in the women's national enabled her to enter the lists at Forest Hills as finalist. Her speed or at least some of it, has gone and so has her confidence. She was obviously ill at ease when she faced Miss Wills in the first act.

How shall the women be ranked? Controversy would be the fruit of an effort to rate the first ten now, but surely there can be no quarrel with the following: Number one, Helen Wills; number two, Mary Browne; number three, Mrs. Mallory; number four, Mrs. Jessup; number five, Miss Goss.

Hollywood Merchants' Ball Team Will Tour

Floyd Carleton's Hollywood Merchants will leave Saturday night for Bakersfield to meet the strong Standard Oil company team. This will be the first game on the tour that the Hollywood team is taking.

From Bakersfield the Hollywood club will play in Las Vegas, N. M. Carleton is trying to arrange games in Utah. Eleven games have been arranged in Wyoming. A series of games will also be played in Colorado. Coming back to California, the team will come through Arizona.

Operation Improves Line of Champ's Nose

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 20.—Jack Dempsey, champion heavyweight, is busy looking into a mirror to observe the effect of his new nose.

The champion underwent a minor operation designed to eliminate the "pug" of his nose. The operation, it was reported, was entirely successful and, as a result, Dempsey will not be forced, as in the past, to wear a putty nose while appearing in motion pictures.

Jackie Fields Plans To Become Ring 'Pro'

Jackie Fields, world's amateur featherweight champion, will leave the ranks of amateurs for professional fighting, and will immediately start on Benny Leonard's trail, according to alleged reports received at the Los Angeles Athletic club yesterday. It was stated that Fields would return to this city within a month and would bid goodbye to his amateur standing forever.

Fields will probably meet Joe Salas as his last amateur bout. The match has been planned by George Blake, boxing instructor at the L. A. A. C., and Fields will more than likely box Salas out of gratitude to Blake. Jackie defeated Salas in the finals of the Olympic battles for the world's championship. Fields will arrive in Los Angeles today or tomorrow from Chicago, according to a telegram.

Ritchie to Start on His Comeback Tonight

OAKLAND, Cal., Aug. 20.—"I never felt better in my life." This was the answer of Willie Ritchie, former world champion lightweight, to critics of his plan to stage a "comeback" to the ring at the age of 33.

"If condition means anything I'll win tonight," he added. He will meet a tough customer in the person of Joe Simonich, a rugged welterweight, whose ability to give and take is well known to fight fans. Ritchie has his eyes on the top of the ladder in pugilism and will begin a campaign to get a match with Benny Leonard if successful in his initial attempt to come back.

Formulate Plans for County Tennis League

Plans for a permanent Los Angeles county tennis league, to be formed of tennis clubs in Los Angeles county, are rapidly being formulated, according to an announcement made here yesterday by E. W. Bennick of Long Beach. It is planned to hold interclub matches yearly or semi-annually and a grand tournament once a year open to all the club members. All clubs interested may gain additional facts from E. W. Bennick of 228 West Ninth street, Long Beach.

Cecil Cruz, White Sox Pitcher, With Vernon

Cecil Cruz, who hurled the Glendale White Sox to a number of victories before he signed up with the Lincoln club of the Western league, is now on the payroll of the Vernon Tigers, according to an announcement of Howard Lorenz, business manager of Bill Essick's crew. Cruz is expected to help the Tiger pitching staff. Eddie Bryan is laid up with malaria, Frank Shellenbach has a sore shoulder, and Ken Penner is nursing a sore arm.

Riverside Horseshoe Tossers Enter Meet

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 20.—The Riverside horseshoe tossers are in good form and ready to enter the fourth annual California horseshoe tournament to be held in Pasadena, August 27-29. Besides the six qualifying rounds the tournament will stage special matches, according to age, 60 to 70 to 90 years.

TAGGING THE BASES

Brown's homer in the eighth enabled Brooklyn to beat the Pirates again, 4 to 3. It was Vance's 21st victory of the season, his ninth straight and his tenth consecutive win from the Pirates.

The Giants broke their losing streak and increased their lead to four games by defeating the Reds 6 to 2.

Washington moved into second place by trimming the Tigers twice, 4 to 3, and 5 to 3. The Senators are now two games behind the Yankees, who were idle yesterday.

The Athletes got the jump on the Indians and won 5 to 3. The victory gave them three out of four in the series.

The Red Sox beat the Browns, 11 to 5, knocking Danforth and Grant off the hill.

Operators Must Bear Oil Evaporation Loss

PONCA CITY, Okla., Aug. 20.—Oil operators in the Osage Indian country have been notified by the Indian commissioner that the Indians will not be required to stand the loss caused by evaporation of royalty oil held in storage. It is expected the matter will be taken to the courts.

LEONARD LEARNS ABOUT FIGHTING

Watched Bernstein and Luis Vicentini Battle In New York Ring

By FAIR PLAY
Special correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Benny Leonard watched Jack Bernstein demonstrate that Luis Vicentini is not a hard man to beat—if you keep away from his right. In the second round Luis put over his wallop and Bernstein went to the floor for the count of eight. Had not the punch been a bit high he might still be horizontal.

Luis has the punch, but ought not to rely on it exclusively; for he is always apt to meet a rugged, clever man like Bernstein and lose a fight on points. On the other hand, the lightweight situation did not get any jounce by Jack's victory.

All that Bartley Madden has to do now is to go the limit with Dempsey and Firpo and his cup of glory will be full. He has boxed everybody else of any note and while usually battered and pounded with everything but the arc lamps he has none the less stuck the distance out.

Bartley Happy

Since Bartley does not seem to mind being punished, referees are much more lenient in the matter of letting him stay in the ring after he has been soundly basted than they would other fighters, and the crowd, which is usually inclined to call upon the referee to stop a bout when one man is outclassed, cheer Madden on. When the bout ends and he is still upright they cheer him like a conqueror.

That is one way to be a champion. If you can't knock other men about, but have the endurance to play the part of a Mexican bean, there is fame and fortune in store for you.

There is some talk that Mickey Walker may go off the handle and sign for a bout with Harry Greb. Mickey has decided that he has got to begin to make big money and the coming months will probably see him much more active than he has ever been. When it comes down to real fights he has not had much more action in the past year than has Benny Leonard.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The fixing of the date for the Leonard-Walker bout for the welterweight championship by the boxing commission for September 22 has presented Benny Leonard, the lightweight king, and contender for the welter title, nearly five weeks in which to mend his sore thumb.

The time, however, will also be utilized to the utmost advantage to mend Benny's timing and judgment of distance. The lightweight champion is wise enough to realize that if he goes into the ring with Mickey in other than the best of condition he will come out thoroughly trimmed.

Reports from Firpo's training camp at Saratoga are not optimistic. A race track follower who has just returned says he watched Luis on the road a couple of days and that most of his traveling is at a walk.

Luis Rushing

Still a walk is better than nothing, and nothing was what he did at Atlantic City when he was training for Dempsey. This man says that Al Reich's left finds Firpo whenever Al lets it out and that the elongated fighter is giving Luis a lot of good boxing practice.

Al always was a winner in the gymnasium, but in the ring has always shone to less advantage. Luis, he says, is doing a lot of rushing in all his practice workouts, which would indicate he has been put hep to Wills' style of waiting and then sending up a left or right.

Luis, he says, is coming in much less wide open and blocks better than he used to. Undoubtedly both Reich and Tate can show him something about boxing if he is willing to learn. Later, when Firpo is farther along, the writer expects to look him over and figure on his chances against Wills, which just now, to be frank, don't look so good to the wise ones, even granting that present betting is favoring Firpo.

Pick American Polo Team to Defend Cup

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The American polo four to defend the international challenge cup against the invading British team on September 6, 10 and 13, was to be selected today or tomorrow by the defense committee.

It is expected the tentative international team, which defeated the Blue four yesterday in the last of the trial matches, will be named. Eric Pedley, California polo star, who scored the only three goals for the Blues, probably will make the team as first substitute, it was said.

FIGHT RESULTS

At New York—Sid Terris outpointed Benny Valgar, ten rounds.

At Denver—Izzy Tanner, St. Paul, decisioned Sailor Danny Burns, Los Angeles, three rounds; Eddie McCarthy, Los Angeles, decisioned Lou Dennison, Denver, three rounds.

DEER THRONGING IN UTAH FOREST

U. S. Officials Seek to Solve Problem of Increase as Hunger Looms

By DARRELL J. GREENWELL
Special correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

OGDEN, Utah, Aug. 20.—What to do about a herd of 25,000 deer, inhabiting a virgin forest tract fifty miles square and increasing at the rate of about 8000 fawns a year, is a problem the United States department of agriculture seeks to solve.

The deer are living and multiplying in the Kaibab national forest of southern Utah, which the late Emerson Hough sought to have set aside permanently as a national monument to be known as the President's forest.

This forest has been a national game preserve for seventeen years. There has been no deer shooting; furthermore, the livestock companies which grazed cattle in the forest have hired trappers and hunters to kill predatory animals. Thus protected from human and natural foes, the deer have thrived and increased until today the forest service sees danger of starvation or an epidemic from overcrowding.

Calls Conference

The secretary of agriculture has called in a group of nationally known men who are interested in game conservation. Among these are John P. Burnham, New York, president of the American Game Protective association; T. Gilbert Pearson, New York, president of the National Audubon society; Haywood Cutting of the Boone and Crockett club, New York; Will H. Dilg, president of the Isaak Walton league, Chicago; T. W. Tomlinson, secretary of the National Livestock association at Denver, and others.

These men have left the end of the railroad at Marysvale, Utah, and are on their way to the forest, about 200 miles from the railroad terminal and on the north rim of the Grand canyon. They will study the situation for several days and then hold a conference with forest service and biological survey men August 25 at V. I. Park in the forest.

Starvation Looms

S. B. Locke, forest examiner from the Ogden forest service office, will be the guide. He has worked on the problem for two or three years and, with Major C. A. Goldwin of the biological survey, has mapped out one solution which will be presented at the conference. These men say the deer are not hungering as yet, but that the starvation point will not be long delayed. One difficulty, they assert, is that there are natural barriers which prevent scattering of the animals, so they advocate capture and crating and removal to other preserves, with limited shooting permitted of bucks. The disturbance created by hunters, they think, may drive some of the deer over the barriers.

The proposition of permitting hunters to enter the forest has met with objections because of fear that the slaughter will be excessive. There is a sportsmanship feature also; the deer are so tame that motor tourists often count as many as 500 on a trip through the park to the rim of the canyon. Shooting deer in the Kaibab would be about like killing steers in a pasture.

BASEBALL QUESTION BOX

If you have some question to ask about baseball—
If you want a rule interpreted—
If you want to know anything about a play or player—
Write John B. Foster, the man who helped make the rules under which the game is played today. If you want a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed, envelope. Otherwise your question will be answered in this column.

QUESTION—We played a game that ended at the fourteenth inning, 2-2. In the last part of the thirteenth inning there was one out, and a runner on second base. A ball was hit by the batter and the runner started for home plate. As he was going the umpire said he did not touch third. There would be only two outs then. All the players left the field before the umpire gave his decision. As there were only two outs, the umpire called the game until a later date. Caledonia says not, we say yes. What is right?

ANSWER—If all the players left the field the umpire could hardly do anything but call the game, but if it was not finished the proper thing to do is to finish it. But if the game went to the fourteenth inning how could it have stopped in the thirteenth. If the game was continued after the thirteenth with either side knowing that only two were out in the thirteenth or with neither knowing it the game would rest as it stands.

QUESTION—A runner is on third, another on second, and one on first. The runner on first runs down to second and touches the base. Can he go back to first base after touching second?

ANSWER—Yes, if second base does not belong to him he must go back to protect his right to first base.

QUESTION—Is a man out if he bunts on his last strike?

ANSWER—If he fouls the ball he is. If he bunts fair it is exactly as if he had batted any fair ball.

FIGHT FAST DRAW AT VERNON ARENA

Teddy Silva, George Rivers Stage Thrilling Bout Before Big Crowd

Before a packed house, Teddy Silva and George Rivers boxed a draw last night at Jack Doyle's Vernon arena. It was the second meeting of these two fighters and the result was the same as in the earlier battle. The bout kept the fans on their feet most of the time.

The first round went to Rivers after he had started in with a whirlwind aggressiveness. Silva essayed to even up things in the second but was outpointed by Rivers. In the third Rivers began to slow up, and Silva started wading in, piling rights and lefts to the face. Steam was lacking in the fourth, with Silva doing most of the leading.

Billy Corbett was given the decision over Alex Maurice in a slow bout that failed to arouse much interest. Lamar left-hooked his way to victory in his bout with Eddie Diggins. Trench King used too much science for Jack Griff, and won. Frank Freeman went down four times in the first round when Tony Fuente hit him with almost everything, and the bout was stopped. Freddie Ellis had things his own way with Danny Duarte and won easily. Young Lancho was given the decision over Harry Foley.

Marital Law to Curb Outbreaks In Soudan

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 20.—Martial law has been proclaimed in Port Sudan, where native agitation against British rule has reached its greatest intensity. Several Egyptian officials have been arrested by the military.

Proclamation of martial law followed a warning by Great Britain to the Egyptian government that the British are responsible for the Sudanese government.

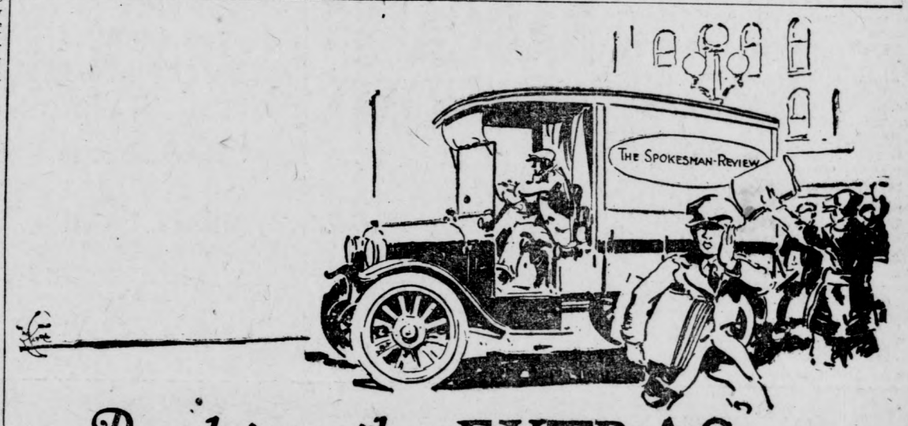
British troops and a British warship have arrived at Port Sudan to keep order.

Anti-British agitation followed a clash between Egyptian railway guards and British troops.

Filipino Cannibals Battle With Police

MANILA, Aug. 20.—One Negrito was killed and a Filipino constabulary man wounded with a poisoned arrow in an engagement at Zambales mountains, 50 miles north of Manila, according to advices received today.

The Negritos share with the Australian bushmen classification as the lowest grade of humankind. They have no settled habitations, sleep in trees and are a race of dwarfs. Some are cannibals and human bones were found in necklaces dangling from the necks of wounded Negritos captured in the present engagement, advices stated.



Rushing the EXTRAS to the newsies—

Probably the only type of automotive equipment that is driven harder than a fire engine is the truck or auto that delivers the papers to the newsies and newsstands.

It's worth noting that Zerolene "stands up" in this sort of service as well as in all others. The Business Manager of the "Spokesman-Review," of Spokane, Wash., writes as follows:

"For more than ten years we have continued to use Zerolene oils and greases in our sixteen cars and trucks and three motorcycles. These carry our papers every day in the year over all sorts of roads in all kinds of weather, and may be classed as very hard service."

Why pay tribute to the superstition that "eastern" oil is "better" just because it costs more? Zerolene, made by our patented high-vacuum process from selected Western Naphthenic Base Crude, deposits less carbon, increases the gasoline mileage of your car, and lengthens its working life.

Insist on Zerolene — a better oil — even if it does cost less.

An intended increase of 7.5 per cent in acreage of winter wheat to be sown this fall compared with last season's planting is indicated by reports on file with the department of agriculture at Washington.

The Bank of Italy has been awarded $150,000 of Whittier municipal improvement 5 per cent bonds with a bid of $6688, against nine other bidders, the lowest of which offered a premium of $4788. A total of $100,000 of the bonds are to be used for construction of water works and the remaining $50,000 for a sewage disposal plant. The bonds mature from September 1, 1925 to September 1, 1964.

C. C. WILL OFFER PROGRESS PLANS

Co-operation of Civic Groups In Program Will Be Sought by Board

Closer co-operation between the Chamber of Commerce and the various service clubs and civic organizations is to be sought in a series of meetings at which representatives of the Chamber of Commerce will present a definite program for work to be carried out for the benefit of the city.

This decision was reached last night at the weekly meeting of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, when it was decided to invite the presidents of a number of organizations to lunch with the board to plan for a Chamber of Commerce week, when the proposed program would be presented to the various clubs by speakers from the Chamber of Commerce.

The organizations whose presidents are to be invited to meet next Monday, August 25, with the board, are the Optimist, Kiwanis, Exchange, Rotary clubs, Glendale Realty board, Glendale Merchants' association, Glendale Motor Car Dealers' association, Glendale Ad club, Physicians & Surgeons' association, Tuesday Afternoon club, Thursday Afternoon club, Business and Professional club, and the chief officials of the city government.

Committee Named

A committee consisting of George B. Karr, chairman; George H. Bentley, L. H. Wilson, D. H. Smith and P. J. Hayselden was appointed by Vice-President Smith to prepare the program that is to be submitted to the heads of the various clubs and organizations at Monday's luncheon.

As a part of the plan for the expansion of the work of the Chamber of Commerce it is proposed to initiate a series of open forum meetings, starting early in September, at which matters of civic interest may be discussed and at which speakers of prominence will deliver addresses. The principal objects of these open meetings, however, will be to bring the membership of the Chamber of Commerce and the citizens of Glendale together in a closer relationship.

Secretary Howard I. Wood, who assumed his duties on Monday, has been asked to act as one of the judges in the parade that is to mark the opening day of the San Fernando Valley Industrial Exposition that is to be held in Burbank from September 9 to 13, and last night was authorized by the directors to accept the invitation. The preparations of Glendale's exhibit in the exposition were referred to the advertising committee.

Fire Signal System

P. J. Hayselden, chief of the Glendale unit of the Angeles Forest Protective association, announced that he had arranged with the management of the Tropico Potteries, in the southern part of the city, to sound an alarm on their whistle when a call is issued to fight brush or forest fires. The same arrangement has already been made with the Fox-Woodsum Lumber company, 714 East California street, and both these firms will be notified of the presence of a fire through the fire department, and the members of the organization will then assemble at the Broadway fire station in preparation for fighting the outbreak.

Mr. Hayselden also reported on the appropriation of $5000 that has been set aside by the Board of Supervisors to establish patrols and lookout stations in the Glendale territory, and Secretary Wood was authorized to write the Supervisors a letter of thanks for their action in making this fund available.

Former Governor George C. Pardee is scheduled to speak on Friday, August 22, on reforestation, Mr. Hayselden announced, in stressing the need for planting trees on the hillsides that were denuded of their vegetation by the fire of last October, declaring that a consistent and sustained policy to restore the trees and to plant more is vital to the welfare of this region.

Templars' Parade

The board approved the proposal to permit the Knights Templar to hold a parade on Brand boulevard, from California avenue to Colorado street, on their field day, October 25, when it is planned to close that portion of the boulevard to traffic for one hour to permit the passage of the parade. Director E. C. Pendroy reported that he and his committee had found no opposition to this plan, and Clem Moore, past commander of the Glendale Commandery, No. 53, will be advised of the action of the board.

A letter of thanks from Mrs. L. C. Brand for the flowers and letter of sympathy sent by the Chamber of Commerce on Mr. Brand's illness was received.

The request of the Low Building company, which has moved to Pasadena, that the firm be released, if possible, from its pledge to the advertising fund, was referred to the Board of Control.

Lawyer Dismissed by Irrigation District

MODESTO, Cal., Aug. 20.—Albert Johnson, attorney for the Modesto irrigation district during the suit against the Turlock district, has been dismissed as attorney by the board of directors. L. J. Maddux probably will be his successor. The board refused to allow a claim of $640 made by Lester O. Wisler of the Wisler Audit Bureau for service during the recent trial involving the two districts.

COMMENT

That's All

Increase In Values
A Business Barometer
Hitting Its Stride
The Good Of Games

—By Gil A. Cowan—

Announcement yesterday in the columns of The Glendale Evening News that the assessed valuations of this city showed an increase of 56.4 per cent was astounding, considering the fact that in a year's time the property values had increased from $30,092,460 to $47,061,355.

More surprising to the public, however, was the announcement that the increased property values would care for sewer and park levies, totalling about 21 cents out of the total $1.11. Again, it was noted that the general budget levy was reduced 14 cents, which shows that rigid economy is being practiced.

From a financial standpoint, the city of Glendale presents the investor in bonds a splendid report.

Not alone in the increase of property values, but one finds the rapid growth of this city is reflected in the postoffice business, which Captain Ripley D. Jackson took occasion to announce at a recent banquet.

In the last two years' time the volume has increased 73 per cent and the receipts this year will be over the $200,000 mark, the postmaster predicts.

One cannot realize, sometimes, just how rapidly Glendale has grown.

These statistics should be interesting to Mr. Wood, newly-appointed secretary of Glendale's Chamber of Commerce.

Having served as a newspaperman in some of the staid cities of the middle west, Mr. Wood undoubtedly will be surprised at the tremendous pace which the community sets for a Chamber of Commerce.

However, we would assure him that Glendale has but begun to grow. It is a city destined to reach 150,000 population by 1930, we believe.

Today that figure may look a little high, but who would ever have thought that the 13,500 of 1920 would have multiplied to more than 50,000 before 1925?

There's going to be a horseshoe pitching tournament over at Pasadena the latter part of this month.

The Glendale club will undoubtedly be well represented.

And what a grand game, if you please, for the old and young to enjoy many happy idle hours.

Men playing croquet and pitching horseshoes are good men.

They are not doing anything dishonorable.

And this is an age when a person must try hard not to do something as good as engaging in sports.

Even the old boys have young ideas of getting into trouble, one would believe from reading the papers.

Business is good and getting better, thank you. No calamity howlers are to be noticed witnessing the steam shovels digging around Sixth street, Los Angeles.

Oh, no! The calamity howlers reside elsewhere than in the sunny Southland.

This is the one glorious white spot of America.

BANKERS TO HOLD MEET IN CHICAGO

Heads of Nation's Financial Institutions Plan to Discuss Welfare

Coming in the midst of the presidential campaign, particular interest will attach this year to the convention at Chicago of the American Bankers' association, which always devotes a large part of its sessions to leading questions of general welfare and to formulating a declaration of principles on business and financial subjects.

Herman Nelson, vice president and manager of the Glendale avenue branch, Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings bank here, has received a communication from Walter W. Head, president of the association, pointing out the importance of this year's meeting and urging attendance. Mr. Head says in part:

"The American Bankers' association is to meet this year in the midst of a national campaign, in which are involved the election of a president and vice president, the selection of senators and congressmen and the determination of important questions of foreign and domestic policy. Such a campaign always affects the course of business and finance in some degree.

Leave Politics Alone

"The American Bankers association is not engaged in partisan politics and its convention at Chicago, September 29 to October 2, will be entirely devoid of partisan flavor. Our convention, however, will necessarily take note of the situation in which the country finds itself.

"Banking itself is an agency. Bankers are vitally interested in all the great industries which make up the economic life of the nation. As bankers—and as citizens—we will review, in our general sessions, some of the important problems affecting these industries and we will undertake to contribute to their solution."

BABY STAR WILL MAINTAIN ORDER

Little Billy Lord to Take Part In Festival at Bohemian Night

EAGLE ROCK, Aug. 20.—One of Hollywood's favorite "little stars," Billy Lord, has accepted the invitation of the local Community Players to take part in the festivities of their "Bohemian" night on August 21. Billy Lord led the Dollar Day parade here on August 1. He is just 6 years old and is known throughout the country as the world's youngest police officer, officially presented with his police badge while ex-Chief August Vollmer was in office here. It will be up to Billy to keep law and order at the "Black Cat," should the merry-makers become too boisterous during their evening's entertainment.

It is probable, however, that he will not be called upon to execute his duty as a police officer on the night in question. Local people, whose hearts he won by his active interest in "Dollar Day" will welcome him back again on this evening, when the Women's Clubhouse, alias the "Black Cat," for the occasion, will be thrown open to all the friends of the Community Players association. Whatever his contribution to the program, it will be one of the feature numbers of the evening.

Harry J. Nielson, concert pianist and teacher, of Eagle Rock boulevard, has entered into a legal battle with Princess Marguerite Orlova, who made many acquaintances here through her activities in organizing an artist's tea house last winter.

Mr. Neilson is suing her, through the state bureau for labor, for concert engagements for which he alleges she has failed to pay.

Princess Orlova is now residing at Laguna Beach, where she is giving summer concerts.

W. T. Ward has returned from a trip through northern California. He visited Sequoia Park, driving through Yosemite, and took in San Francisco before returning to Eagle Rock.

Lieut. E. W. Welty of the local fire department is on his vacation until August 23. Harry Brown is acting in Lieutenant Welty's place during his absence.

Meyer Insurance to Be Held Up, Report

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 20.—Life insurance companies that insured Henry D. Meyer, Pasadena business man, who was shot and killed in the home of Charles D. Dorris at Long Beach several weeks ago, are about to hold up payment of $100,000 insurance on the ground that Meyer committed suicide, it is reported at the court house. The report could not be verified at the insurance offices, although it was not denied.

A portion of the insurance held by Meyer which does not carry a suicide clause will be paid shortly, it was announced, to Mrs. Meyer, who has been made legatee of the bulk of the $300,000 Meyer estate.

Suit will be brought by the Meyer estate to collect the $100,000 if payment is withheld, it was asserted today. Dorris was recently acquitted of a charge of killing Meyer and his wife, Theresa Dorris.

Idle Time In Mines Shows Big Increase

Chinese Engineer Is Slain In Mine Crash

JEROME, Ariz., Aug. 20.—Yuan Wong, young Chinese mining engineer, was crushed to death here when a motor and ten cars of ore dashed over the end of a trestle at a United Verde Mining company ore dump.

A Mexican worker was seriously injured in the accident, while ten other workers jumped to safety.

The young engineer had recently graduated from an American university, and was here to gain practical knowledge of mining before practicing his profession in China.

PEOPLE seem to think of safe deposit service in three ways:

1. As an indefinite service that is "there" but not for their special use.
2. As a protection for their valuables, a service which they can easily afford, but hardly afford to be without.
3. And there are some people who don't seem to think of Safe Deposit Service at all; they depend upon old trunks, boxes, hidden drawers—this is their idea of Safety.

Of these three types, we think the second is best, for they generally come to the Security Bank and keep their valuables in our vaults.
